

Exercise 2-3 of Exercise 2: Identifying Triangles/Segments

Remember to print the picture

Exercise 2-3 (2)

Given:

Triangle ABC with D on AC and E on BC.

Find: (What do you know?)

These triangles have corresponding sides that are both given and parallel. The figure construction has already noted the parallel lines, and all three additional pieces. The construction is there just to help find out. Remember that if you have two corresponding angles at a vertex and shared side between two triangles, the reflection of the third vertex makes them congruent. A reflection across the line with both segments at the vertex is congruent.

What other properties can be used to identify the triangles? (What do you know about the height of the triangle?)

Identifying Triangles

1. Identify the triangles that are given.

2. What do you know about the triangles?

3. In the diagram below, label the segments that are the given segments. (What do you know about the segments?)
