Teaching to Exceed the English Language Arts Common Core State Standards Richard Beach, Amanda Haertling Thein, Allen Webb, 2012-06-25 As the new English Language Arts Common Core State Standards take hold across the United States the need grows for pre service and in service teachers to be ready to develop curriculum and instruction that addresses their requirements. This timely, thoughtful and comprehensive text directly meets this need. It delineates a literacy practices and critical engagement curriculum framework for 6-12 English language arts education that explains and illustrates how the Standards' highest and best intentions for student success can be implemented from a critical, culturally relevant perspective that is firmly grounded in current literacy learning theory and research. The first 6-12 English language arts methods text to be aligned with the Standards, this book also addresses their limitations, formalist assumptions about literacy learning, limited attention to media digital literacies, lack of attention to critical literacies and questionable assumptions about linking standards and text complexity to specific grade levels. Specific examples of teachers using the literacy practices critical engagement curriculum framework in their classrooms shows how these limitations can be surpassed. Features: Moves the CCSS framework into a view that literacy is a contextualized social practice. Challenges simplistic models that homogenize adolescent learners. Adds the important element of critical literacy to English language arts classrooms. Provides specific examples of teachers in action implementing these practices. Interactive Companion Website with student and instructor resources. The Website is designed to foster interactivity through participation in an online teaching planning simulation with a text video or case on one side of the screen and a chat box for instructors and students to share their reactions and planning ideas. The Companion Website is linked to a wiki that serves as a repository for links, activities, units and further reading.

Ignoring Poverty in the U.S. the Corporate Takeover of Public Education P. L. Thomas, 2012-03-09 This book examines the conflict between public education and consumerism. It addresses poverty, historical purposes of education, media misinformation, charter schools and the demonization of schools and teachers. The book advocates for addressing poverty to empower public education and rejects deficit views of people in poverty.

Books in Print, 1977    Research in Education, 1974    Teaching to Change the World Jeannie Oakes, Martin Lipton, Lauren Anderson, Jamy Stillman, 2015-11-17 This is an up to the moment, engaging, multicultural introduction to education and teaching and the challenges and opportunities they present. Together the four authors bring a rich blend of theory and practical application to this groundbreaking text. Jeannie Oakes is a leading education researcher and former director of the UCLA teacher education program. Martin Lipton is an education writer and consultant and has taught in public schools for 31 years. Lauren Anderson and Jamy Stillman are former public school teachers now working as teacher educators. This unique, comprehensive, foundational text considers the values and politics that pervade the U.S. education system. It explains the roots of conventional thinking about schooling and teaching, asks critical questions about how issues of power and privilege have shaped and continue to shape educational opportunity and presents powerful examples of real teachers working for equity and justice. Taking the position that a hopeful democratic future depends on ensuring that all students learn the text pays particular attention to inequalities associated with race, social class, language, gender and other social categories and explores teachers' role in addressing them. The text provides a research based and practical treatment of essential topics and it situates those topics in relation to democratic values, issues of diversity and cognitive, sociocultural and constructivist perspectives on learning. The text shows how knowledge of education foundations and history can help teachers understand the organization of today's schools, the content of contemporary curriculum and the methods of modern teaching. It likewise shows how teachers can use such knowledge when thinking about and responding to headline issues like charter schools, vouchers, standards testing and bilingual education to name just a few. Central to this text is a belief that schools can and must be places of extraordinary educational quality and institutions in the service of social justice. Thus the authors address head on tensions between principles of democratic schooling and competition for always scarce high quality opportunities. Woven through the text are the voices of a diverse group of teachers who share their analyses and personal anecdotes concerning what teaching to change the world means and involves. Click Here for Book Website. Pedagogical Features: Digging Deeper sections referenced at the end of each chapter and featured online include supplementary readings and resources from scholars and practitioners who are addressing issues raised in the text. Instructor's Manual offers insights about how to teach course content in ways that are consistent with cognitive and sociocultural learning theories, culturally diverse pedagogy and authentic assessment.
