

A promotional graphic for Apple Black Friday. The background features a close-up of a gold-colored Apple laptop with its lid open, showing a silver Apple logo on the inside. A white Apple logo is also visible on the gold surface. A white cable is plugged into the bottom of the laptop. A white, rounded rectangular box with a torn-edge effect is centered over the laptop. Inside this box, the words "Apple", "Black", and "Friday" are stacked vertically in a large, bold, black sans-serif font.

Selfishness and Selflessness Linda L. Layne, 2020-04-09 We are said to be suffering a narcissism epidemic when the need for collective action seems more pressing than ever The traits of Selfishness and selflessness address the proper and improper relationship between one s self and others The work they do during periods of social instability and cultural change is probed in this original interdisciplinary collection Contributions range from an examination of how these concepts animated the eighteenth century anti slavery campaigners to a dissection of the way middle class mothers experiences illustrate gendered struggles over how much and to whom one is morally obliged to give

This is the Sound of Irony: Music, Politics and Popular Culture Katherine L. Turner, 2016-03-03 The use of irony in music is just beginning to be defined and critiqued although it has been used implied and decried by composers performers listeners and critics for centuries Irony in popular music is especially worthy of study because it is pervasive even fundamental to the music the business of making music and the politics of messaging Contributors to this collection address a variety of musical ironies found in the notes themselves in the text or subtext and through performance reception and criticism The chapters explore the linkages between irony and the comic the tragic the remembered the forgotten the co opted and the resistant From the nineteenth to twenty first centuries through America Europe and Asia this provocative range of ironies course through issues of race religion class the political left and right country punk hip hop folk rock easy listening opera and the technologies that make possible our pop music experience This interdisciplinary volume creates new methodologies and applies existing theories of irony to musical works that have made a cultural or political impact through the use of this most multifaceted of devices

No Ordinary Disruption Richard Dobbs, James Manyika, Jonathan Woetzel, 2016-08-30 Our intuition on how the world works could well be wrong We are surprised when new competitors burst on the scene or businesses protected by large and deep moats find their defenses easily breached or vast new markets are conjured from nothing Trend lines resemble saw tooth mountain ridges The world not only feels different The data tell us it is different Based on years of research by the directors of the McKinsey Global Institute No Ordinary Disruption The Four Forces Breaking all the Trends is a timely and important analysis of how we need to reset our intuition as a result of four forces colliding and transforming the global economy the rise of emerging markets the accelerating impact of technology on the natural forces of market competition an aging world population and accelerating flows of trade capital and people Our intuitions formed during a uniquely benign period for the world economy often termed the Great Moderation Asset prices were rising cost of capital was falling labour and resources were abundant and generation after generation was growing up more prosperous than their parents But the Great Moderation has gone The cost of capital may rise The price of everything from grain to steel may become more volatile The world s labor force could shrink Individuals particularly those with low job skills are at risk of growing up poorer than their parents What sets No Ordinary Disruption apart is depth of analysis combined with lively writing informed by surprising memorable insights that enable us to quickly grasp the disruptive forces at work For evidence of the shift to emerging markets consider the startling fact that by 2025 a single regional city in China Tianjin will have a GDP equal to that of the Sweden of that in the decades ahead half of the world s economic growth will come from 440 cities including Kumasi in Ghana or Santa Carina in Brazil that most executives today would be hard pressed to locate on a map What we are now seeing is no ordinary disruption but the new facts of business life facts that require executives and leaders at all levels to reset their operating assumptions and management intuition Where to Eat Guide Portland - Spring
