Learner-Centered Teaching Activities for Environmental and Sustainability Studies Loren B. Byrne,2016-03-21 Learner centered teaching is a pedagogical approach that emphasizes the roles of students as participants in and drivers of their own learning Learner centered teaching activities go beyond traditional lecturing by helping students construct their own understanding of information develop skills via hands on engagement and encourage personal reflection through metacognitive tasks In addition learner centered classroom approaches may challenge students preconceived notions and expand their thinking by confronting them with thought provoking statements tasks or scenarios that cause them to pay closer attention and cognitively see a topic from new perspectives Many types of pedagogy fall under the umbrella of learner centered teaching including laboratory work group discussions service and project based learning and student led research among others Unfortunately it is often not possible to use some of these valuable methods in all course situations given constraints of money space instructor expertise class meeting and instructor preparation time and the availability of prepared lesson plans and material Thus a major challenge for many instructors is how to integrate learner centered activities widely into their courses The broad goal of this volume is to help advance environmental education practices that help increase students environmental literacy Having a diverse collection of learner centered teaching activities is especially useful for helping students develop their environmental literacy because such approaches can help them connect more personally with the material thus increasing the chances for altering the affective and behavioral dimensions of their environmental literacy This volume differentiates itself from others by providing a unique and diverse collection of classroom activities that can help students develop their knowledge skills and personal views about many contemporary environmental and sustainability issues

Charles,James D. Slotta,Nathaniel Lasry,2019-07-11 This book represents the emerging efforts of a growing international network of researchers and practitioners to promote the development and uptake of evidence based pedagogies in higher education at something a level approaching large scale impact By offering a communication venue that attracts and enhances much needed partnerships among practitioners and researchers in pedagogical innovation we aim to change the conversation and focus on how we work and learn together i e extending the implementation and knowledge of co design methods In this first edition of our Research Topic on Active Learning we highlight two of the three types of publications we wish to promote First are studies aimed at understanding the pedagogical designs developed by practitioners in their own practices by bringing to bear the theoretical lenses developed and tested in the education research community These types of studies constitute the practice pull that we see as a necessary counterbalance to knowledge push in a more productive pedagogical innovation ecosystem based on research practitioner partnerships Second are studies empirically examining the implementations of evidence based designs in naturalistic settings and under naturalistic conditions Interestingly the teams conducting these studies are already exemplars of partnerships between researchers and practitioners who are uniquely positioned as in betweens straddling the two worlds As a result these publications represent both the rigours of research and the pragmatism of reflective practice In forthcoming editions we will add to this collection a third type of publication design profiles These will present practitioner developed pedagogical designs at varying levels of abstraction to be held to scrutiny amongst practitioners instructional designers and researchers alike We hope by bringing these types of studies together in an open access format that we may contribute to the development of new forms of practitioner researcher interactions that promote co design in pedagogical innovation
