1. What two things did he want to show you with the peanut plant?

a. No matter what you are... you have the same genetic material called DNA.

b. Humans can... tamper with this and transfer genetic material/DNA from one organism to another and transform that organism.

2. History of DNA:

a. Griffith's experiment:

i. Used "what" in his experiment? Streptococcus pneumoniae injected into mice.

ii. Big thing he learned: there was a... transforming factor. Something was being transferred from these dead smooth strain to these live rough strain. It was transforming them into a virulent type of a bacteria, through DNA.

b. Avery, McCarty, MacLeod:

i. Looked at Griffith's experiment and tried to find out... what was the transforming factor.

ii. Used enzymes that broke down DNA, protein and DNA.

iii. What did they figure out? DNA was the transforming factor.

c. Hershey and Chase:

i. What did most people think the transforming agent was? Proteins were the genetic material.

ii. What did they work with? Bacteriophages and two different atoms. They used sulfur and phosphorus.

iii. What did they show? Phosphorus was the only green one showing any genetic change, and therefore proteins aren't transferring the information, and DNA was.

d. Watson, Crick, Wilkins, Franklin and Chargaff:

i. Wilkins and Franklins were doing experiments with: x-ray crystallography of DNA and overall structure of DNA.

ii. Chargaff: found out that the amount of A and T are the same and C and G are the same.

iii. Watson and Crick:

1. Watson sat in one of Rosalind Franklin's secret meetings

2. Used the information from Chargaff to help build models to figure out the structure of DNA

3. Structure of DNA:

a. DNA is wrapped around Histone proteins.

Using Basic Statistics in the Behavioral and Social Sciences Annabel Ness Evans,2013-06-06 In this fully updated edition of Using Basic Statistics in the Behavioral and Social Sciences Annabel Ness Evans presents introductory statistics in a practical conceptual and humorous way reducing the anxiety that many students experience in introductory courses Avoiding complex notation and derivations the book focuses on helping readers develop an understanding of the underlying logic of statistics rather than rote memorization Focus on Research boxes engage students with realistic applications of statistics and end of chapter exercises ensure student comprehension This exciting new edition includes a greater number of realistic and engaging global examples within the social and behavioral sciences making it ideal for use within many departments or in interdisciplinary settings

Secularity and Science Elaine Howard Ecklund,David R. Johnson,Brandon Vaidyanathan,Kirstin R.W. Matthews,Steven W. Lewis,Robert A. Thomson, Jr.,Di Di,2019-08-29 Do scientists see conflict between science and faith Which cultural factors shape the attitudes of scientists toward religion Can scientists help show us a way to build collaboration between scientific and religious communities if such collaborations are even possible To answer these questions and more the authors of Secularity and Science What Scientists Around the World Really Think About Religion completed the most comprehensive international study of scientists attitudes toward religion ever undertaken surveying more than 20 000 scientists and conducting in depth interviews with over 600 of them From this wealth of data the authors extract the real story of the relationship between science and religion in the lives of scientists around the world The book makes four key claims there are more religious scientists than we might think religion and science overlap in scientific work scientists even atheist scientists see spirituality in science and finally the idea that religion and science must conflict is primarily an invention of the West Throughout the book couples nationally representative survey data with captivating stories of individual scientists whose experiences highlight these important themes in the data Secularity and Science leaves inaccurate assumptions about science and religion behind offering a new more nuanced understanding of how science and religion interact and how they can be integrated for the common good
