Doron

2014 Sesotho Paper 1:

Towards Human Rights in Residential Care for Older Persons Helen Meenan, Nicola Rees, Israel Doron, 2015-07-30 People are leading significantly longer lives than previous generations did and the proportion of older people in the population is growing Residential care for older people will become increasingly necessary as our society ages and we will require more of it At this moment in time the rights of older people receive attention at international and regional levels with the United Nations the Organization of American States and the African Union exploring the possibility of establishing new conventions for the rights of older persons This book explores the rights of older people and their quality of care once they are living in a care home and considers how we can commence the journey towards a human rights framework to ensure decent and dignified care for older people The book takes a comparative approach to present and future challenges facing the care home sector for older people in Africa Kenya the Arab world Egypt Australia China England Israel Japan and the USA An international panel of experts have contributed chapters identifying how their particular society cares for its older and oldest people the extent to which demographic and economic change has placed their system under pressure and the role that residential elder care homes play in their culture The book also explores the extent to which constitutional or other rights form a foundation to the regulatory and legislative structures to residential elder care and it examines the important concept of dignity As a multi regional study of the care of older person from a human rights perspective this book will be of excellent use and interest in particular to students and researchers of family and welfare law long term care social policy social work human rights and elder law Bibliokrati ya Sesotho sa Leboa go fihla ka 1993 ,1994 Working with indigenous knowledge Fhumulani M. Mulaudzi, Rachel T. Lebeso, 2022 The aim of the book is to assist both local and international scholars in articulating the scholarly discourse on indigenous health attitudes practices and experiences The indigenous lens that was used to generate and disseminate indigenous knowledge in this book will strengthen indigenous scholarship thus making it accessible to a wider audience In addition the information shared in this book will add value for scholars and assist them with the indigenous knowledge needed to address sustainable development goals This book is timely and topical as the discourse on the decolonisation of the curriculum is widely debated in the higher education space The discourse on the scholarship of indigenous knowledge as the tacit local knowledge that stems from cultural practices within communities has not been well articulated in the current health science education milieu Indigenous knowledge has remained overlooked and undermined for a very long time and the information remains untapped in local communities The scholars who conducted the research on which this book is based unearthed a wealth of knowledge which was tacit in nature and translated it into implicit knowledge that can be documented and shared with other scholars globally This knowledge will assist health care scholars in benefiting from knowledge practices and cultural beliefs that will assist them in health care planning teaching evidence based practice and further research Applicative Morphology Sara Pacchiarotti, Fernando Zuniga, 2022-10-03

This book is about recurrent functions of applicative morphology not included in typologically oriented definitions. Based on substantial cross linguistic evidence it challenges received wisdom on applicatives in several ways. First in many of the surveyed languages applicatives are the sole means to introduce a non Actor semantic role into a clause. When there is an alternative way of expression the applicative counterpart often has no valence increasing effect on the targeted root. Second applicative morphology can introduce constituents which are not syntactic objects and/or co occur with obliques. Third functions such as conveying aspectual nuances to the predicate, intensity, repetition, habituality or its arguments, partitive P, highly individuated P, narrow focusing constituents and functioning as category changing devices are attested in geographically distant and genetically unrelated languages. Further this volume reveals that spatial related morphology is prone to developing applicative functions in disparate languages and phyla. Finally several contributions discuss the diachrony of applicative constructions and their non syntactic attested functions including a case of applicatives in the making.

Knowledge Beyond Colour Lines Monwabisi K. Ralarala, Salochana Lorraine Hassan, Rajani Naidoo, 2021-05-25

Knowledge remains timely in education. The need for academics to contemplate its relevance, worth, use and everything in between, seems a continuous intellectual project rather than a conundrum to be solved. This book takes the South African context by the horns as it challenges the often dormant and traditionalist ways in which higher education spaces see knowledge. Through original research and the voices of academics and students this book argues for repurposing knowledge generation, knowledge sharing and critical pedagogy so that more inclusive teaching and learning environments can be both imagined and sustained. The contentious tensions that this creates for LoLT and SoTL in particular are unlocked so as to trouble the South African higher education landscape with the intent to proffer alternative pathways for a knowledge beyond colour lines.

Prof Shan Simmonds PhD NWU

This edited volume bristles with fresh scholarly approaches and insights of an emergent generation of engaged scholars grappling with the issues and problems of higher education in South Africa. The issues dealt with here are varied and encompassing. They are treated with intellectual delicacy and probing sensitivity, articulacy, informed data and bold conclusions. They serve well.

Africa Toyin Falola, Daniel Jean-Jacques, 2015-12-14

These volumes offer a one stop resource for researching the lives, customs and cultures of Africa's nations and peoples. Unparalleled in its coverage of contemporary customs in all of Africa, this multivolume set is perfect for both high school and public library shelves. The three volume encyclopedia will provide readers with an overview of contemporary customs and life in North Africa and sub-Saharan Africa through discussions of key concepts and topics that touch everyday life among the nations' peoples. While this encyclopedia places emphasis on the customs and cultural practices of each state, history, politics and economics are also addressed. Because entries average 14 000 to 15 000 words each, contributors are able to expound more extensively on each country than in similar encyclopedic works with shorter entries. As a result readers will gain a more complete understanding of what life is like in Africa's 54 nations and territories and will be better able to draw cross cultural comparisons based on their reading

User-Centric Studies in Game Translation and Accessibility Miłojaj Deckert,Krzysztof W. Hejduk,2024-11-05 This innovative collection makes the case for a push within the discipline to adopt user centric perspectives on translated video games and their corresponding accessibility features The volume demonstrates how audiovisual translation AVT and media accessibility MA involve decisions that can re shape the gaming experience of players and other audiences Contributions in the book outline this in two ways First they collectively provide an account of the prospects and challenges that come with user centric scholarly inquiry in game translation and accessibility Second complementarily they report on original studies and new exciting findings while adopting the perspective of global users Taken together the collection serves as a call to action to systematically advance research eliciting variable types of input from users who take advantage of translation and accessibility services Such research will facilitate a clearer understanding of how the particular decisions of translators and other relevant agents shape game reception This book will be of interest to scholars in both translation studies and video game research as well as those interested in media accessibility and media studies more broadly
