

Agilent 6210 TOF LC/MS System

Quick Start Guide

Use this guide for your first steps with the Agilent 6210 LC/MS TOF System, and as a roadmap for your user information.

What is the Agilent 6210 TOF LC/MS system?

The Agilent TOF is an orthogonal-axis time-of-flight mass spectrometer (oa-TOF). That is, the ions reaching the time-of-flight chamber are impelled in a direction perpendicular to their original path.

You can set up an Agilent time-of-flight mass spectrometer system (TOF) in several configurations:

- For normal flow LC/MS with a binary pump, quaternary pump, well-plate sampler (or autosampler) and ESI, APCI, APPI or MMI ion sources
- For microflow LC/MS with a capillary pump, micro well-plate sampler and ESI, APCI or MMI ion source
- For nanoflow LC/MS with a nanopump, micro well-plate sampler and nanospray source or dual nanospray source
- TOF system with an AP-MALDI source

Each Agilent system has advantages for drug discovery — high throughput sample screening with highly sensitive detection and accurate mass assignment.

Each system uses the same Agilent MassHunter Software to enable these advantages, although the AP-MALDI TOF system uses only the TOF portion of the software.

ESI – Electrospray Ionization
APCI – Atmospheric Pressure Chemical Ionization
APPI – Atmospheric Pressure Photo Ionization
MALDI – Matrix-Assisted Laser Desorption Ionization
MMI – Multimode Ionization
