Images critic Franz Schulze presents the first comprehensive discussion of the body of work which has been called sometimes affectionately and sometimes disparagingly the Chicago School of art The author considers the work of 28 artists a diverse group bound together more by attitude than style by its almost perverse but deliberate inclination to bypass the mainstream of the Paris and New York schools Mr Schulze puts the discussion into context by tracing its beginnings in the 1940s through its development in the 1960s and 70s Dust jacket flap Composition Michael Archer, 2023-04-13 The rules of composition have changed Discover the new ideas that shape the art we make today Art has changed beyond recognition since the principles of harmonious composition were established in classical times From the invention of photography to the digital revolution technological and social advances have transformed the way we see the world This new vision influenced by changing attitudes not least towards gender roles and the West's colonial history is reflected in the art we make From the rejection of Western compositional orthodoxy by artists such as Edouard Manet Vincent van Gogh and Mary Cassatt to the revolutionary practices of Jean Michel Basquiat Tania Bruguera Meleko Mokgosi and many others acclaimed art critic and writer Michael Archer reveals the ideas and intentions behind a thrillingly diverse selection of artworks giving readers a new set of tools for understanding art today Art in America Frank Jewett Mather, Frederic Fairchild Sherman, 2007
