Routledge Handbook of Integrated Project Delivery Derek Walker, Steve Rowlinson, 2019-07-26 The concept of integrated project delivery IPD has evolved as a result of the need for highly expert teams of people to collaborate to deliver extremely complex projects to manage expectations about delivery speed changes in governance standards and to take advantage of and manage expectations raised by rapid advances in technology All this demands effective change management This is the first Handbook to contextualise and thematically explore the concept with an emphasis on rigorous practical and theoretical validation The Handbook is divided into five sections each with a focus on several interconnected themes including An introduction to IPD concepts The foundational elements and characteristics of IPD People culture and collaboration as key ingredients to successful and effective IPD Technology and process aspects of relational contracting forms such as IPD New and relevant perspectives to IPD that have received scant attention to date Aspects and emerging issues that are rarely consciously considered in traditional project delivery due to the commercial imperative that drives firms and client organisations The Handbook offers both discussions of these key themes and also in depth research into construction and other industry project procurement and delivery that spans decades In addition the Handbook presents best and better practice but also includes insights into cutting edge experimental developments in technology and practices where proof of concept is currently being developed into emerging practice Contributing authors in this Handbook collaborate with the co editors to draw together an integrated set of chapters that align to deliver a coherent narrative of the IPD concept It is an invaluable reference for practitioners and academics alike and useful as core course content for numerous degree programs of study and professional development courses Precision in Architecture Mhairi McVicar, 2019-05-13 This book offers a detailed insight into the desire for and consequences of precise communications in the daily life of contemporary architectural practice through close readings of constructed architectural details by Sigurd Lewerentz Caruso St John Architects Mies van der Rohe and OMA In the professionalised context of the contemporary architectural profession precise communications drawings specifications letters faxes and emails are charged with the complex task of translating architectural intent into a neutral and quantifiable language which is expected to guarantee an exact match between the architects intentions and the constructed result Yet as any architectural practitioner will know it is doubtful whether the construction of any architectural project may ever exactly match all written and drawn predictions This book challenges claims to certainty which have been attributed to such communications from the mid nineteenth century onwards and critiques ongoing expectations of certainty in contemporary architectural production CIO. , 2004 The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1974 Forest and Stream ,1881 The Boys' Champion Paper ,1886 The Intercollegian and Far Horizons ,1934 Hardcopy ,1985 International Aerospace Abstracts ,1998 Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper John Albert Sleicher, 1878 Intercollegian ,1930 Association Men.
