Callahan, 2006-05-03 This text examines the politics of culture and the culture of politics in Pacific Asia through case studies on the South Pacific, China, South Korea, Thailand and Southeast Asia. The contexts and cultures of the chapters are wide ranging and Callahan skilfully ties them together with the objective of analyzing the relation between the state's cultural governance and resistance to it. The themes covered include governmentality and cultural production, popular culture and resistance, East-West relations, gender identity and democracy, civil society, social movements and democracy, national and transnational identity production. Cultural Governance and Resistance in Pacific Asia addresses the dynamics between Asian studies and cultural studies and the overlap between comparative politics and international relations and as such will appeal to students and scholars of Asian studies, cultural studies, comparative politics, sociology and anthropology alike.

The African American Theatrical Body Soyica Diggs Colbert, 2011-10-06 Presenting an innovative approach to performance studies and literary history, Soyica Colbert argues for the centrality of black performance traditions to African American literature, including preaching, dancing, blues and gospel, and theatre itself, showing how these performance traditions create the performative ground of African American literary texts. Across a century of literary production, using the physical space of the theatre and the discursive space of the page, W.E.B. Du Bois, Zora Neale Hurston, James Baldwin, August

Wilson and others deploy performances to re situate black people in time and space The study examines African American plays past and present including A Raisin in the Sun Blues for Mister Charlie and Joe Turner's Come and Gone demonstrating how African American dramatists stage black performances in their plays as acts of recuperation and restoration creating sites that have the potential to repair the damage caused by slavery and its aftermath Theatre History Studies 2024,
