An Impatient Life A Memoir:

An Impatient Life Daniel Bensaïd, 2013-08-06 A philosopher and activist eager to live according to ideals forged in study and discussion Daniel Bensaïd was a man deeply entrenched in both the French and the international left Raised in a staunchly red neighbourhood of Toulouse where his family owned a bistro he grew to be France's leading Marxist public intellectual much in demand on talk shows and in the press A lyrical essayist and powerful public speaker at his best expounding large ideas to crowds of students and workers he was a founder member of the Ligue Communiste and thrived at the heart of a resurgent far left in the 1960s which nurtured many of the leading figures of today's French establishment The path from the joyous explosion of May 1968 through the painful experience of defeat in Latin America and the world shaking collapse of the USSR to the neoliberal world of today dominated as it is by global finance is narrated in An Impatient Life with Bensaïd's characteristic elegance of phrase and clarity of vision His memoir relates a life of ideological and practical struggle a never resting endeavour to comprehend the workings of capitalism in the pursuit of revolution

The European Avant-Garde - A Hundred Years Later, 2024-01-08 The title of this book The European Avant Garde A Hundred Years Later implies the European avant garde took place a century ago that it is a thing of the past However it does not aim to consolidate this position but to question it It addresses temporality as the central dimension related to the notion of the avant garde The book brings forth original revisions of the theories of the avant garde the works of the avant garde the idea of the avant garde as being the vanguard the leading force of change It addresses the returning of the avant garde during the twentieth century and today

The Rise of the Memoir Alex Zwerdling, 2017 The Rise of the Memoir traces the growth and extraordinarily wide appeal of the memoir Its territory is private rather than public life shame guilt and embarrassment not the achievements celebrated in the public record What accounts for the sharp need writers like Rousseau Woolf Orwell Nabokov Primo Levi and Maxine Hong Kingston felt to write and to publish such works when they might more easily have chosen to remain silent Alex Zwerdling explores why each of these writers felt compelled to write them as that story can be reconstructed from personal materials available in archival collections what internal conflicts they encountered while trying and how each of them resisted the private and public pressures to stop themselves rather than pursuing this confessional route against their own doubts without a reasonable expectation that such works would be welcome in print and eventually find an empathetic audience Reconstructing this process in which a dubious project eventually becomes a compelling product a memoir that will last illuminates both what was at stake and why this serially invented open form has reshaped the expectations of readers who welcomed a vital alternative to the official story
