

English Literature and Composition Practice Questions for "Wishes Left to Hunt" by Sir Thomas Wyatt
Poem 1

Directions: Use the following poem. Then, for each multiple-choice question, select the best answer.

Wishes Left to Hunt

Wishes left to hunt, I know where it can find,
But as for me, alas, I may no more.
The vain, trivial hunt has ceased me no more;
I am of them that farbe it cometh behind.
Yet may I try no means my waste-d mind

5

Drive from the door, but as she fleeth alone
Painting I follow, I leave off these fowls.
Since in a net I seek to hold the wind,
Who lost her hunt, I put him out of doubt,
As well as I, may spend his time in vain.

10

And given with diamonds in letters plain
That as is written, her fair neck round about
Mile me compass*, for (as yet) I am,
And wild for to hold, though I seem tame.

Literature, Pedagogy, and Curriculum in Secondary Education M. Martin Guiney, 2017-05-31 This book argues for the importance of literature studies using the historical debate between the disinterested disciplines art for art's sake and utilitarian or productive disciplines Forgoing the traditional argument that literature is a unique spiritual resource as well as the utilitarian thought that literary pedagogy promotes skills that are relevant to a post industrial economy Guiney suggests that literary pedagogy must enable mutual access between the classroom and the outside world It must recognize the need for every human being to become a conscious producer of culture rather than a consumer through an active process of literary reading and writing Using the history of French curricular reforms as a case study for his analysis Guiney provides a contextualized redefinition of literature's social value
