Agricultural Land Use and Natural Gas Extraction Conflicts Madeline

Taylor, Tina Hunter, 2018-11-02 Onshore unconventional gas operations in most jurisdictions operate on the legal principle that all activities during exploration and extraction are temporary in nature The concept that the onshore unconventional gas industry has a temporary effect on the land on which it operates creates a regulatory paradox On one hand unconventional gas activities create energy security national wealth and a burgeoning export industry On the other agricultural land and agriculturalists may be significantly disadvantaged by unconventional gas activities potentially producing permanent damage to non renewable fertile soils and spoiling the underground water tables Thus threatening future food security and food sovereignty This book explores the socio regulatory dimensions of coexistence between agricultural and onshore unconventional gas land uses in the jurisdictions with the highest concentration of proven unconventional gas reserves Australia Canada the USA the UK France Poland and China In exploring the differing regulatory standpoints of unconventional gas land uses on productive farming land in the chosen jurisdictions this book provides an original three part categorisation of regulatory approaches addressing the coexistence of agricultural land and unconventional gas namely adaptive management precautionary and finally statism It offers a timely and topical approach to socio legal natural resource governance theory based on the participation transparency and empowerment for agricultural landholders examining how differing frameworks such as the collective bargaining framework can create equitable and sustainable contractual arrangements with unconventional gas companies

Farmland Preservation Wayne J. Caldwell, Stew Hilts, Bronwynne

Wilton, 2017-03-22 As land is lost to urban sprawl and other non farm activity our ability to produce food is diminished and options for future food production are limited Farmland preservation speaks to the need to preserve the agricultural land base for future generations The need for protection is driven by uncertainty caused by climate change population growth food security energy availability and other local and global factors This uncertainty means that there is an ever growing responsibility to ensure that the actions of today do not compromise the needs of future generations This second edition of Farmland Preservation provides a range of views and case studies from across Canada the United States and beyond Its fourteen essays are intended to help the reader understand the importance of the issue and the potential for applying new approaches to agricultural protection policy tools and initiatives
