Figure 1 illustrates our 2007 experience with the 4000 products, categories, and distribution channels that make up our total product offering. Please refer to the accompanying table for a detailed description of each product category and its contribution to our total sales. Our general strategy with products that account for a large portion of our sales is to maintain a high level of inventory and to offer a major feature and differentiation for each offering. For example, the top 10 products account for 50% of our sales, but represent only 10% of our product offerings. This is because these products are highly differentiated and have a high level of customer satisfaction.
