Theories of Imperfectly Competitive Markets Luis Corchon,2013-06-29 One of the most fascinating debates of our times is the discussion over the merits and capabilities of market economies Very often one sees strong endorsements to the idea that markets provide an efficient way of allocating resources Some years ago opposite views on this issue used to be very popular at least in Europe and were held by similarly qualified people In my opinion the contribution of economics to this question can not be dismissed on the grounds that economics still in its infancy and that this question is a practical one whatever this means Economics started with similar naive ideas two hundred years ago In particular it has taken a long time to realize that competition does not work in such a smooth way as many classical writers thought it did and that many facts can not be explained by the theory of perfectly competitive markets This issue is explored at depth in the Introduction to this Lectures In this sense the contribution of the Theory of industrial Organization has been to make a convincing case for the view that monopoly and oligopoly can persist in the long run in a world populated by rational agents Despite of the fact that we are far from having a satisfactory theory of how markets work progress has been immense and we certainly understand why current theories are still not completely satisfactory Econophysics and Physical Economics Peter Richmond,Jürgen Mimkes,Stefan Hutzler,2013-09-05 This book summarises progress in the understanding of financial markets and economics based on the established methodology of statistical physics It offers a new approach to the fundamentals of economics that offers the potential for increased insight and understanding It should be of interest to all serious students of the subject Changing

Freedom of Establishment and Private International Law for Corporations Paschalis Paschalidis,2012-03-29 Freedom of establishment is one of the four fundamental freedoms of the European Union The principle is that natural persons who are European Union Citizens and legal entities formed in accordance with the law of a Member State and having its registered office central administration or principal place of business within the EU may take up economic activity in any Member State in a stable and continuous form regardless of nationality or mode of incorporation This book examines the way in which EU law has influenced how national courts in Europe assert jurisdiction in cross border corporate disputes and insolvencies and the mechanism which allows them to decide which national law should apply to the substance of the dispute The book also considers the potential for EU Member States to compete for devising national corporate and insolvency legislation that will attract incorporations or insolvencies Central to the book is the concept of national choice of law In considering the impact of freedom of establishment on private international law for corporations the book uniquely analyses both corporate and insolvency law together presenting the topic in the broadest possible sense Importantly the doctrine of abuse in corporate and insolvency law is covered raising the question of forum shopping and regulatory competition which underpins the intersection between freedom of establishment and private international law Through examination of the most recent and leading judgments of the European Court of Justice in Centros and Cadbury Schweppes the book derives certain conclusions as to the operation of the doctrine of abuse and the limits thereof in the context of freedom of establishment Being the first in the field to examine the leading ECJ cases of Inspire Art Sevic and Cartesio regarding the real seat doctrine the book makes the judgment that there is no incompatibility as such between the doctrine and the freedom of establishment Ultimately the book analyses to what extent diversity in the corporate and insolvency laws of the Member States should be preserved so as to encourage competition between jurisdictions in Europe
