Women's Entrepreneurship in the Asian Region Jane Menzies,Meena Chavan,Ambika Zutshi,Andrea North-Samardzic,Sultana Lubna Alam,2025-11-14 This book explores women's entrepreneurship in Asia and analyses the experiences of women entrepreneurs through institutional logics. Covering ten different countries throughout Asia including India Pakistan Bangladesh Malaysia Nepal Brunei Indonesia Saudi Arabia and Turkey this book highlights a range of success stories the supports challenges policy and practical implications to improve women's participation in entrepreneurship. Women in some Asian countries are subjected to cultural norms and beliefs systems which regard women as inferior. This book suggests actions by governments universities organisations and women themselves to help improve the position of women as entrepreneurs in Asia and explains how these actions are in line with the UN's Sustainability Development Goal of gender equality. The book also considers how women may contribute to developing businesses that focus on addressing corporate social responsibility and sustainability. This book is an essential resource for women entrepreneurs academics researching these areas and students studying women's entrepreneurship and entrepreneurship more generally. Women who are keen to start their own businesses and policymakers seeking to support the establishment of women led businesses in the Asian region will also find this useful.

Heritage, Affect and Emotion Divya P. Tolia-Kelly,Emma Waterton,Steve Watson,2016-07-01 Heritage and its economies are driven by affective politics and consolidated through emotions such as pride awe joy and pain. In the humanities and social sciences there is a widespread acknowledgement of the limits not only of language and subjectivity but also of visuality and representation. Social scientists particularly within cultural geography and cultural studies have recently attempted to define and understand that which is more than representational through the development of theories of affect assemblage post humanism and actor network theory to name a few. While there have been some recent attempts to draw these lines of thinking more forcefully into the field of heritage studies this book focuses for the first time on relating heritage with the politics of affect. The volume argues that our engagements with heritage are almost entirely figured through the politics of affective registers such as pain loss joy nostalgia pleasure belonging or anger. It brings together a number of contributions that collectively and with critical acuity question how researchers working in the field of heritage might begin to discover and describe affective experiences especially those that are shaped and expressed in moments and spaces that can be at times intensely personal intimately shared and ultimately social. It explores current theoretical advances that enable heritage to be affected released from conventional understandings of both heritage as objects and objects as representations by opening it up to a range of new meanings emergent and formed in moments of encounter. Whilst representational understandings of heritage are by no means made redundant through this agenda they are destabilized and can thus be judged anew in light of these developments. Each chapter offers a novel and provocative contribution provided by an interdisciplinary team of researchers who are thinking theoretically about affect through
