2013 Life Science Papergrade1eastern Cape

Celeste Vaughan Curington

2013 Life Science Papergrade1eastern Cape:

Policy, Politics and Poverty in South Africa Jeremy Seekings, Nicoli Nattrass, Kasper, 2015-07-21 Seekings and Nattrass explain why poverty persisted in South Africa after the transition to democracy in 1994. The book examines how public policies both mitigated and reproduced poverty and explains how and why these policies were adopted. The analysis offers lessons for the study of poverty elsewhere in the world.

Africa in the Age of Globalisation Assoc Prof Edward Shizha, Assoc Prof Lamine Diallo, 2015-04-28 This is a collection of bold and visionary scholarship that reveals an insightful exposition of re-visioning African development from African perspectives. It provides an interdisciplinary conceptual base that can effectively guide the planning and implementing of programs for socio-economic development in Africa. The book provides up-to-date scholarly research on continental trends on various subjects and concerns of paramount importance to globalisation and development in Africa: politics, democracy, education, gender, technology, global relationships, and the role of non-governmental organisations.

Oiling the Urban Economy Franklin Obeng-Odoom, 2014-06-13 This book presents a critical analysis of the resource curse doctrine and a review of the international evidence on oil and urban development to examine the role of oil on property development and rights in West Africa's new oil metropolis, Sekondi-Takoradi, Ghana. It seeks answers to the following questions: In what ways did the city come into existence? What changes to property rights are oil prospecting, explorations, and production introducing in the 21st century? How do the effects vary across different social classes and spectrums? To what extent are local and national institutions able to shape, restrain, and constrain transnational oil-related accumulation and its effects on property in land, property in housing, residential leisure, and commercial and property in labour? How do these processes connect with the entire urban system in Ghana? This book shows how institutions of varying degrees of power interact to govern land, housing, and labour in the city and analyses how efficient, sustainable, and equitable the outcomes of these interactions are. It is a comprehensive account of the tensions and contradictions in the main sectors of the urban economy, society, and environment in the booming Oil City and will be of interest to urban economists, development economists, real estate economists, Africanists, and urbanists.

Laboring in the Shadow of Empire Celeste Vaughan Curington, 2024-09-13 Laboring in the Shadow of Empire: Race, Gender, and Care Work in Portugal examines the everyday lives of an African descendant care service workforce that labors in an ostensibly anti-racial Europe and against the backdrop of the Portuguese colonial empire. While much of the literature on global care work has focused on Asian and Latin American migrant care workers, there is comparatively less research that explicitly examines African care workers and their migration histories to Europe. Sociologist Celeste Vaughan Curington focuses on Portugal, a European setting with comparatively liberal policies around family settlement and naturalization for migrants. In this setting, rapid urbanization in the late twentieth century, along with a national push to reconcile work and family, has shaped the growth of paid home care and cleaning service industries. Many researchers focus on informal work settings where immigrant rights are restricted, and many workers are undocumented or without permanent residence status Curington instead examines workers who have accessed citizenship or permanent residence status and also explores African women s experiences laboring in care and service industries in the formal market revealing how deeply colonial and intersectional logics of a racialized and international division of reproductive labor in Portugal render these women hyper invisible and hyper visible as appropriate workers in Lisbon Tribing and Untribing the Archive Carolyn Hamilton,Nessa Leibhammer,2016 These volumes track how the domain of the tribal and traditional was marked out and came to be sharply distinguished from modernity how it was denied a changing history and an archive and was endowed instead with a timeless culture These volumes also offer strategies for engaging with the materials differently from the interventions effected in contemporary artworks to the inserting of nameless timeless objects of material culture into histories of individualized and politicized experience Publisher s description
