The Russian State and Russian Energy Companies, 1992-2018

Ingerid M. Opdahl,2020-06-09 The Russian State and Russian Energy Companies analyses the development of relations between the state and five major energy companies and how this shaped Russia s foreign policy in the post Soviet region The book argues that the development of Russia s political economy mattered for foreign policy over the quarter of a century from 1992 to 2018 Energy companies roles in institutional development enabled them to influence foreign policy formation and they became available as tools to implement foreign policy The extent to which it happened for each company varied with their accessibility to the Russian state Institutional development increased state capacity in a way that strengthened Russia s political regime The book shows how the combined power of several companies in the gas oil electricity and nuclear energy industry was a key feature of Russian foreign policy both in bilateral relationships and in support of Russia s regional position

In this way Russia's energy resources were converted to regional influence. The book contributes to our understanding of Russia's political economy and its influence on foreign policy and of the formation of policy towards post Soviet states.

IFRS Manual of Accounting 2009, 2008 International Financial Reporting Standards IFRSs are being increasingly used by companies throughout the world. All entities listed in the EU have been required to issue financial statements under IFRS since 2005 and more and more other countries are making the change to IFRS including the US and Canada. The Manual is packed full of clear practical guidance on how to prepare financial statements in accordance with IFRS. It includes hundreds of practical worked examples and extracts from company reports as well as model IFRS financial statements that help to illustrate the explanations and show exactly how even the most complex calculations and disclosures should be made. Economic Consequences of Fair Value Reclassifications of Financial Assets According to IAS 39 Meryem Önüt, 2017-10-16 Master's Thesis from the year 2015 in the subject

Business economics Accounting and Taxes grade 2.0 University of Hohenheim language English abstract The purpose of this thesis is to provide direct empirical evidence on the use of the Amendment according to IAS 39 regarding the reclassification of financial instruments. It therefore reviews what happened when the accounting policies were switched from fair value accounting to historical accounting during the financial crisis in 2008. Using a sample of manually collected data from Western European banks the thesis empirically examines which banks used this reclassification option to deal with problematic financial assets and how these reclassification activities are correlated with other firm characteristics.

Furthermore the thesis shows the influence of the amount of assets in each fair value level on the fair value hierarchy and the impact of the banks regulatory capital during the height of the financial crises on the use of the relaxation option. The final aim is to analyze the economic consequences of this option and to determine how beneficial it is for the global financial system considering that banks will again make use of this sort of permission in other future crises. After the development of the International Financial Reporting Standards IFRS by the International Accounting Standard Board IASB in 2001 the European Union EU decided to unify the jurisdictions for all listed corporations and therefore decreed a mandatory adoption of IFRS in the EU. The EU reasoned that common accounting standards improve capital market efficiency and reduce information processing and auditing costs. However the decisive reason for the adoption of IFRS was that today's global economy requires global standards to ensure transparency, accountability and comparability of financial accounts. IFRS was preferred because of its focus on a fair value based method of accounting compared to historical cost accounting and the EU claimed that adopting IFRS would bring financial stability while serving the interests of the public.
