1. What is the primary purpose of the study? (e.g., to evaluate the effectiveness of a new treatment, to explore the relationship between two variables, to describe a population, etc.)

• Please provide short-sighted homeowners with these tips to help them see the problem.
• Consider using this slide to help them see the issue and problem.
• Please note that many neighborhoods have large, established populations, and others have
• smaller, more transient populations. Consider how these types of groups might
• feel about their neighbors being less fortunate. A neighbor's pedigree, economic standing, and past
• history can all play a role in their reactions to this slide.
