Topics discussed in addition to clearly illustrated basic oculoplastic procedures include surgical innovations ranging from the Sonopet system for safer removal of bone in lacrimal surgery to the development of complex image guidance technology for sinus and orbital surgery. Detailed discussion of syndromic and non syndromic congenital anomalies, explore a variety of surgical techniques and the nuances of applying these approaches in the management of various structural abnormalities. Further important advances include new analytic laboratory techniques which can illuminate the genetic basis of many pediatric oculoplastic disorders, various medical management advances such as the role of beta blockers in the treatment of facial and orbital hemangiomas and the development of biologic pathway blockers inhibiting tumor growth which offer real potential for reducing the necessity of surgical intervention.

Avoidance: From Basic Science to Psychopathology Richard J Servatius, Kevin CH

Pang, Gregory J Quirk, Catherine E Myers, 2016-05-25 Coping has a myriad of facets: knowledge concerning the circumstances of threats to emotional and physical well-being, the ability to meet immediate needs to mitigate the potential for recurrence, the ability to apply efforts and resources to manage recurrence and the complex assessment of competing motivations and changing circumstances. Successful coping is measured in the efficiency of efforts in balance with the degree of threat and likelihood of future occurrence. As one means of coping, avoidance encompasses thoughts and efforts toward prevention of future aversive experiences and events. Anxiety disorders exemplify an extreme bias toward avoidance. A diathesis learning model focuses research efforts on individual vulnerabilities to acquire and express avoidance; the neurobiology of avoidance learning and its attendant circuitry. A fundamental understanding of avoidance through a diathesis learning model offers will facilitate the development of effective treatment protocols in alleviating anxiety disorders.
