this book people who have been criminally accused of not disclosing their HIV positive status detail the many complexities of disclosure and the violence that results from being criminalized Accompanied by portraits from artist Eric Kostiu Williams the profiles examine whether the criminal legal system is really prepared to handle the nuances and ethical dilemmas faced everyday by people living with HIV By offering personal stories of people who have faced criminalization first hand Alexander McClelland questions common assumptions about HIV the role of punishment and the violence that results from the criminal legal system s legacy of categorizing people as either victims or perpetrators Note A regrettable error appears on page 22 The number 240 should be 206 when referring to the number of people prosecuted in relation to allegations of HIV
