Handbook of Preformulation Sarfaraz K. Niazi, 2019-03-22 Preformulation studies are the physical chemical and biological studies needed to characterize a drug substance for enabling the proper design of a drug product whereas the effectiveness of a drug product is determined during the formulation studies phase. Though the two disciplines overlap in practice each is a significantly distinct phase of new drug development. Entirely focused on preformulation principles this fully revised and updated Handbook of Preformulation Chemical Biological and Botanical Drugs Second Edition provides detailed descriptions of preformulation methodologies gives a state of the art description of each technique and lists the currently available tools useful in providing a comprehensive characterization of a new drug entity. Features Addresses the preformulation studies of three different types of new active entities chemical biological and botanical which is the latest established class of active ingredient classified by the FDA. Illustrates the activities comprised in preformulation studies and establishes a method of tasking for drug development projects. Includes extensive flow charts for characterization decision making. Gives extensive theoretical treatment of principles important for testing dissolution solubility stability and solid state characterization. Includes over 50% new material.
