Office of the Surgeon General, 2011 Covers all aspects of behavioral health in the military population including traumatic brain injury posttraumatic stress syndrome combat and operational stress control training for resiliency and other preventive measures pain management grief family dynamics rehabilitation and occupational therapy medications suicide prevention forensic psychiatry detainee care substance abuse eating disorders ethics and the roles of military behavioral health providers and chaplains as well as the military's evolving behavioral health policy and practices Faith and Hope in a War-torn Land Kenneth E. Lawson, 2006 Chaplain Lawson's initial historical review of the Balkans provides the setting to help one understand what led to America's involvement in the region. He deftly works his way through the key points of a confusing history that ultimately leads to US and international engagement in the area. Later in the book he provides an excellent summary of the Bosnia and Kosovo regions and the consequent US presence there. This background information is very helpful in understanding the crucial nature of chaplain ministry because much of the Balkans conflict is related to religious issues. Chaplain Lawson's use of personal Army chaplain and chaplain assistant accounts makes up the bulk of the work. His use of quotes, stories, written accounts and personal observations provides a broad look at religious ministry in this relatively new Army environment, an environment of peacekeeping and multinational joint service coordination. He points out that the religious support in the Balkans conflict was also a period in which the Army had to use the Reserve components Army National Guard and Army Reserve in a significant way Commerce Business Daily ,2001-03
