Grammar and mechanics are taught in the context of use In the past the teaching of formal grammar usually displaced some instruction and practice in actual composition Unfortunately with our overcrowded curriculum teachers can't afford to spend excessive class time on decontextualized grammar exercises that involve little or no actual composition Students should be given daily opportunities to explore writing and create written text for various purposes We know that writing is a powerful tool that can influence others and clarify one's own thoughts Teaching the writing process through the workshop approach can give students the key to unlocking this powerful tool And the activities in this book are designed to help make the process easier for teachers to pick up and implement today You will find over 200 mini lessons designed to stimulate critical and creative thinking that can be applied to written composition in all phases of the writing process Students will continue to recognize that adults who use these activities in the context of authentic literacy lessons are those who are committed to facilitating and promoting only the very best of writers
