past with his own family's history deftly illustrating how class matters precisely because Americans work so hard to pretend it doesn't. He examines six signposts of American history: the settlements at Plymouth and Jamestown, the ratification of the Constitution, the Statue of Liberty, the cowboy, the kitchen debate between Richard Nixon and Nikita Khrushchev, and Martin Luther King's 'I Have a Dream' speech to explore just how pervasively class has shaped our national conversation. With a historian's intellectual command and a riveting narrative voice, Fraser interweaves these examples with his own past, including his false arrest on charges of planning to blow up the Liberty Bell during the Civil Rights era, to tell a story both urgent and timeless.
