A Weekend Alone:

Better Than Okay Brandi Wilson,2023-07-11 Some seasons of life can seem inordinately more difficult than one human should ever have to endure For Brandi Wilson this was the year when her husband of more than 20 years and a megachurch pastor walked away from her and her family her church community dissolved and her dreams and identity were shattered Yet God transformed this heartbreaking overwhelming year into an invaluable lesson on the gift of healing Here Brandi vulnerably and beautifully tells her story of confronting grief and heartache head on and learning how to grow from the pain She poignantly reminds us that your story is always evolving as she helps you rely on and find comfort in the promises of God endure the darkest moments and seasons of life address your grief head on begin a new journey toward healing find freedom in your new identity While grief and tragedy seem final and your life and dreams look drastically different there is hope for renewed joy peace and redemption Your pain doesn t get the final say through God s grace and healing power you will be better than okay

On the Other Hand June McCullough,2011-08-11 Nina Andrews is a woman who loves her life and considers it close to perfect After twenty eight years of marriage she is still in love with her husband Mike Now that they are empty nesters they are looking forward to retirement and a life of leisure Their financial planner Pat McDermott is successful professionally but her personal life has been a disappointment She has always admired the relationship that Mike and Nina have and envies them Suddenly everything changes when Mike dies leaving Nina behind Her overwhelming grief soon turns to anger and then depression She tries to live outside her grief but the next step seems impossible Just when Nina thinks she is learning to endure she crashes As Nina struggles with her loss Pat battles her own demons Once burned by love she is hesitant to open her life up to new possibilities So when someone special appears in her life every instinct tells her to be afraid But whether she wants to or not she is falling in love Crushed by her grief Nina carefully plans her suicide but just as she is about to carry out her plan there is a knock at her door The visitor she finds on the other side will change her life in ways she never dared dream
