Handbook of Research on Text and Web Mining Technologies Song, Min, Brook Wu, Yi-Fang, 2008-09-30 Examines recent advances and surveys of applications in text and web mining which should be of interest to researchers and end users alike

The Oxford Handbook of Computational Linguistics Ruslan Mitkov, 2022-06-02 Ruslan Mitkov's highly successful Oxford Handbook of Computational Linguistics has been substantially revised and expanded in this second edition. Alongside updated accounts of the topics covered in the first edition, it includes 17 new chapters on subjects such as semantic role labelling, text-to-speech synthesis, translation technology, opinion mining and sentiment analysis, and the application of Natural Language Processing in educational and biomedical contexts among many others. The volume is divided into four parts that examine respectively the linguistic fundamentals of computational linguistics, the methods and resources used such as statistical modelling, machine learning and corpus annotation, key language processing tasks including text segmentation, anaphora resolution and speech recognition, and the major applications of Natural Language Processing from machine translation to author profiling. The book will be an essential reference for researchers and students in computational linguistics and Natural Language Processing as well as those working in related industries. Shape, 1994 Readings in Machine Learning Jude W. Shavlik, Thomas Glen Dietterich, 1990 The ability to learn is a fundamental characteristic of intelligent behavior. Consequently, machine learning has been a focus of artificial intelligence since the beginnings of AI in the 1950s. The 1980s saw tremendous growth in the field, and this growth promises to continue with valuable contributions to science, engineering and business. Readings in Machine Learning collects the best of the published machine learning literature, including papers that address a wide range of learning tasks and that introduce a variety of techniques for giving machines the ability to learn. The editors, in cooperation with a group of expert referees, have chosen important papers that empirically study, theoretically analyze or psychologically justify machine learning algorithms. The papers are grouped into a dozen categories, each of which is introduced by the editors. Proceedings of the Fifteenth Annual Conference of the Cognitive Science Society Science Society Cognitive, Con, POLSON, 1993 This volume features the complete text of all regular papers, posters and summaries of symposia presented at the 15th annual meeting of the Cognitive Science Society.

Artificial General Intelligence 2008 P. Wang, B. Goertzel, S. Franklin, 2008-02-18 The field of Artificial Intelligence (AI) was initially directly aimed at the construction of thinking machines, that is, computer systems with human-like general intelligence. But this task proved more difficult than expected. As the years passed, AI researchers gradually shifted focus to producing AI systems that intelligently approached specific tasks in relatively narrow domains. In recent years, however, more and more AI researchers have recognized the necessity and the feasibility of returning to the original goal of the field. Increasingly, there is a call to focus less on highly specialized narrow AI problem-solving systems and more on confronting the difficult issues involved in creating human-level intelligence and ultimately general intelligence that goes beyond the human level in various ways Artificial General Intelligence AGI as this renewed focus has come to be called attempts to study and reproduce intelligence as a whole in a domain independent way Encouraged by the recent success of several smaller scale AGI related meetings and special tracks at conferences the initiative to organize the very first international conference on AGI was taken with the goal to give researchers in the field an opportunity to present relevant research results and to exchange ideas on topics of common interest In this collection you will find the conference papers full length papers short position statements and also the papers presented in the post conference workshop on the sociocultural ethical and futurological implications of AGI

Artificial Intelligence Stuart Jonathan Russell, Peter Norvig, Ernest Davis, 2010 Artificial intelligence A Modern Approach 3e is ideal for one or two semester undergraduate or graduate level courses in Artificial Intelligence It is also a valuable resource for computer professionals linguists and cognitive scientists interested in artificial intelligence The revision of this best selling text offers the most comprehensive up to date introduction to the theory and practice of artificial intelligence
