Architecture School Rankings 2012:

Architecture and the Social Sciences Maria Manuela Mendes, Teresa Sá, João Cabral, 2017-04-05 This book contributes to current debates on the relationship between architecture and the social sciences highlighting current interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary teaching as well as research and practice in architecture and urbanism It also raises awareness about the complementarities and tensions between the spaces of the project including the construction spaces and living space It gives voice to recent projects and socio territorial interventions focusing on interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary approaches between society and space Divided into two parts the first part discusses the possible dialogue between social sciences and architecture while the second part explores architecture politics and social change in urban territories from a European perspective

A Comparative Analysis of Policing Consumer Contracts in China and the EU Jiangqiu Ge, 2019-02-07 This book seeks to fill a gap in the existing literature by describing the formulation interpretation and enforcement of the rules on consumer contracts in China and the EU and by mapping key similarities and differences The study addresses selected issues regarding consumer contracts sources of law in the two jurisdictions are first discussed to set the scene Afterwards one preliminary issue how to define the concept of a consumer contract and two substantive topics unfair terms and withdrawal rights are dealt with Apart from the descriptive analysis the book also provides possible explanations for these comparative findings and argues that the differences in consumer contract rules can be primarily attributed to a disparity of markets The book offers a valuable resource particularly for researchers and practitioners in the fields of private law and comparative law

Architectural, Construction, Environmental and Digital Technologies for Future Cities Natalia Potienko, Elena Ahmedova, Antonina Karlina, Vladimir Faerman, 2022-04-27 This book offers an overview of Russian and international experience in developing the concept of future cities and its practical implementation The concept of future cities is associated with several important trends The first trend is the sustainable development of the urban environment and the implementation of eco friendly technologies and materials in civil construction industrial and power plants The harmonious coexistence of the citizens with all forms of nature in the urban habitat becomes a great value The second trend is the individualization of the aesthetical and architectural image of the future cities The city's unique flavor based on the blending of the historical legacy and architectural traditions is now as important as the utility of the environment The third trend is the digitalization of the urban environment with the use of state of the art sensors information and communication technologies and data science The efficiency of operations and services achieved by the extensive use of complex IoT networks becomes a value as well The last trend is the adaptation of the urban and social environment for individual demands of a community and a person Individual comfort and safety are now more important than ever before By addressing these trends the volume discusses local and international plans practices and technologies aimed at the development and implementation of future cities study approach to provide the readers with a systematic delineation and interpretation of the implications of the university ranking phenomenon for Taiwan's higher education system. It reviews the literature on different theories concerning the global transformation of higher education and presents basic information on higher education in Taiwan. The author develops a four-dimensional framework for the analysis of the ranking phenomenon in the island state. First, the technological ecological dimension aims to look into how the rankings have impacted Taiwan's higher education based on empirical findings from five Taiwanese public universities. Next, the technological geographical dimension examines how Taiwan can use rankings to promote its interests in global higher education. The two conceptual dimensions focus on the relationship between the rankings and power in higher education. They show how the phenomenon can be read and explained through theoretical lenses from ecological and geographical perspectives. From an ecological perspective, the empirical evidence suggests that the influence of rankings varies throughout the academic hierarchy in Taiwan. The theoretical analysis then illustrates the relationship between the ranking phenomenon and the power structure in academic hierarchy. Geographically, while the empirical analysis is based on data from Taiwan, the theoretical analysis offers essential insights that help readers to understand the changing global landscape of higher education and its implications in East Asia.
