Singh, Congressional Record United States. Congress, 2017-10-24 Consumer Neuroscience - Foundation, Validation, and Relevance Thomas Zoëga Ramsoy, Hilke Plassmann, Carolyn Yoon, Joseph T. Devlin, 2023-08-07 Consumer neuroscience has become an expanding area of both research and conduct spanning from academic interests in the brain bases of consumption choices to commercial application of neuroscience tools and metrics However many of these advances are still criticized for low applicability scattered publication records conceptual vagueness and a lack of proper scientific and commercial validation To make matters worse

there is now a host of proposed commercial applications of both the insights from neuroscience and the application of neuroscience and neurophysiology tools to test consumer responses While many of these approaches may be valid many other approaches are either not properly validated or may be flawed misguided or even outright lies As a discipline there is a need for both the basic and applied research in consumer neuroscience to become aligned The purpose of this Research Topic is to provide this much needed platform for such an industrial alignment In doing so this Research Topic will provide perspectives on three main areas 1 distinctions between basic translational and applied consumer neuroscience research 2 conceptual clarification on key concepts relevant to the science and application of consumer neuroscience 3 validation of consumer neuroscience methods and how they relate to commercially relevant cases For this Research Topic we therefore welcome submissions that combine academic and commercial research all in the vein of making advances in establishing a valid applicable consumer neuroscience

Credit, Consumers and the Law Karen Fairweather, Paul O'Shea, Ross Grantham, 2016-10-14 Consumer law particularly consumer credit law is characterised by increasingly complex regulation in Western economies Reacting to the Global Financial Crisis governments in the UK the EU Australia New Zealand and the United States have adopted new laws dealing with consumer credit responsible lending consumer guarantees and unfair contracts Drawing together authors from all of these jurisdictions this book analyses and evaluates these initiatives and makes predictions as to their likely success and possible flaws Federal Register, 2013-08 EU Competition Law, Data Protection and Online Platforms: Data as Essential Facility Inge Graef, 2016-10-17 All are agreed that the digital economy contributes to a dynamic evolution of markets and competition Nonetheless concerns are increasingly raised about the market dominance of a few key players Because these companies hold the power to drive rivals out of business regulators have begun to seek scope for competition enforcement in cases where companies claim that withholding data is needed to satisfy customers and cut costs This book is the first focus on how competition law enforcement tools can be applied to refusals of dominant firms to give access data on online platforms such as search engines social networks and e commerce platforms commonly referred to as the gatekeepers of the Internet The question arises whether the denial of a dominant firm to grant competitors access to its data could constitute a refusal to deal and lead to competition law liability under the so called essential facilities doctrine according to which firms need access to shared knowledge in order to be able to compete A possible duty to share data with rivals also brings to the forefront the interaction of competition law with data protection legislation considering that the required information may include personal data of individuals Building on the refusal to deal concept and using a multidisciplinary approach the analysis covers such issues and topics as the following data portability interoperability data as a competitive advantage or entry barrier in digital markets market definition and dominance with respect to data disruptive versus sustaining innovation role of intellectual property regimes economic trade off in essential facilities cases relationship of competition enforcement with data protection law and data related competition concerns in merger cases The author draws on a wealth of relevant material including EU and US decision making practice case law and policy documents as well as economic and empirical literature on the link between competition and innovation The book concludes with a proposed framework for the application of the essential facilities doctrine to potential forms of abuse of dominance relating to data In addition it makes suggestions as to how data protection interests can be integrated into competition policy An invaluable contribution to ongoing academic and policy discussions about how data related competition concerns should be addressed under competition law the analysis clearly demonstrates how existing competition tools for market definition and assessment of dominance can be applied to online platforms It will be of immeasurable value to the many jurists business persons and academics concerned with this very timely subject Journal of Soil and Water Conservation ,2014 Vol 25 no 1 contains the society s Lincoln Chapter s Resource conservation glossary Farmers and Consumers Market Bulletin ,1999 Parliamentary Papers Great Britain.
