DeSena, 2016-05-12 In this book the authors revisit two iconic Brooklyn neighborhoods Crown Heights Prospect Lefferts Gardens and Greenpoint Williamsburg where they have been active scholars since the 1970s Krase and DeSena's comprehensive view from the street describes and analyses the neighborhoods decline and rise with a focus on race and social class They look closely at the strategies used to resist and promote neighborhood change and conclude with an analysis of the ways in which these neighborhoods contribute to current images and trends in Brooklyn This book contributes to a better understanding of the elevated status of Brooklyn as a global city and destination place Product Design and Sustainability Jane Pentty, 2019-08-19 Whether it is the effects of climate change the avalanche of electronic and plastic waste or the substandard living and working conditions of billions of our fellow global citizens our ability to deal with unsustainability will define the twenty first century Given that most consumption is mediated through products and services the critical question for designers is How can we radically reshape these into tools for sustainable living As a guide and reference text Product Design and Sustainability provides design students practitioners and

The Power of Bad John Tierney,Roy F. Baumeister,2019-12-31 From the international bestselling authors of Willpower Why does a bad impression last longer than a good one Why does losing money affect us more than gaining it What makes phobias so hard to shake The answer is the negativity bias or in other words the power of bad As John Tierney and Roy F Baumeister show we are wired to react to bad over good It makes sense in evolutionary terms but in our modern world the lure of bad is well bad It governs people s moods drives marketing and dominates our news It can explain everything from why wars start or couples divorce to why we mess up job interviews or feud with neighbours But there is good news By using smart strategies from new science we can train our brains to get better at spotting our own negativity bias fighting back with our rational minds to manage the bad in our lives and even using its power for positive results Breaking bad s hold over us can help our own lives at work and in our relationships Properly understood bad can be a good thing

Food and Cooking Skills Education Anita Tull,2018-01-29 Food and Cooking Skills Education FCSE is a complex mix of policy and practicality educational theory and pedagogy classroom and government policy This book shows how FCSE has been at the centre of a tussle between education and policy for decades It reviews how FCSE has grappled with various significant issues of concern that threaten to marginalise it and pose problems for educational practicalities as expectations are increased but resources are squeezed It assesses the debate about the significance and importance of acquiring practical food and cooking skills in a society where the purchase of ready made food has become commonplace and public knowledge of where our food comes from is noticeably lacking This has contributed to the escalating incidence of diet related diseases and the attendant cost to society and threatened environmental sustainability In turn governments have reacted by proposals to make practical cooking skills a statutory National Curriculum subject as part of the armoury for tackling such costs Based on detailed research conducted across England and Wales as well as comparisons with thirty five other countries or states the author makes recommendations for policy to manage this challenge facing contemporary society Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post 2011 reordering of the Middle East Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states especially Kuwait Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices Both developments along with dramatic demographic change have compelled state and citizens to re evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike
