Planning for Community-based Disaster Resilience Worldwide Adenrele Awotona, 2016-10-14 We are witnessing an ever increasing level and intensity of disasters from Ecuador to Ethiopia and beyond devastating millions of ordinary lives and causing long term misery for vulnerable populations Bringing together 26 case studies from six continents this volume provides a unique resource that discusses in considerable depth the multifaceted matrix of natural and human made disasters It examines their bearing on the loss of human and productive capital the conduct of national policies and the setting of national development priorities and on the nature of international aid and bilateral assistance strategies and programs of donor countries In order to ensure the efficacy and appropriateness of their support for disaster survivors international agencies humanitarian and disaster relief organizations scholars non governmental organizations and members of the global emergency management community need to have insight into best practices and lessons learned from various disasters across national and cultural boundaries The evidence obtained from the numerous case studies in this volume serves to build a worldwide community that is better informed about the cultural and traditional contexts of such disasters and better enabled to prepare for respond to and finally rebuild sustainable communities after disasters in different environments The main themes of the case studies include the need for community planning and emergency management to unite in order to achieve the mutual aim of creating a sustainable disaster resilient community coupled with the necessity to enact and implement appropriate laws policies and development regulations for disaster risk reduction the need to develop a clear set of urban planning and urban design principles for improving the built environment s capacities for disaster risk management through the integration of disaster risk reduction education into the curricula of colleges and universities the need to engage the whole community to build inclusive governance structures as prerequisites for addressing climate change vulnerability and fostering resilience and sustainability Furthermore the case studies explore the need to link the existence and value of scientific knowledge accumulated in various countries with decision making in disaster risk management and the relevance and transferability from one cultural context to another of the lessons learned in building institutional frameworks for whole community partnerships

Routledge Handbook of National and Regional Ocean Policies

Biliana Cicin-Sain, David Vanderzwaag, Miriam C. Balgos, 2015-05-15 This comprehensive handbook prepared by leading ocean policy academics and practitioners from around the world presents in depth analyses of the experiences of fifteen developed and developing nations and four key regions of the world that have taken concrete steps toward cross cutting and integrated national and regional ocean policy All chapters follow a common framework for policy analysis While most coastal nations of the world already have a variety of sectoral policies in place to manage different uses of the ocean such as shipping fishing oil and gas development in the last two decades the coastal nations covered in the book have undertaken concerted efforts to articulate and implement an integrated ecosystem based vision for the governance of ocean areas under their jurisdiction This includes goals and procedures to harmonize existing uses and laws to foster sustainable development of ocean areas to protect biodiversity and vulnerable resources and ecosystems and to coordinate the actions of the many government agencies that are typically involved in oceans affairs The book highlights the serious conflicts of use in most national ocean zones and the varying attempts by nations to follow the prescriptions emanating from the 1982 UN Law of the Sea Convention and the outcomes of the 1992 2002 and 2012 sustainable development summits The interrelationship among uses and processes in the coast and ocean requires that ocean governance be integrated precautionary and anticipatory Overall the book provides a definitive state of the art review and analysis of national and regional ocean policies around the world

Atlas of Religion in China: Social and Geographical Contexts Fenggang Yang, 2018-09-04 The speed and the scale with which traditional religions in China have been revived and new spiritual movements have emerged in recent decades make it difficult for scholars to stay up to date on the religious transformations within Chinese society This unique atlas presents a bird's eye view of the religious landscape in China today In more than 150 full color maps and six different case studies it maps the officially registered venues of China's major religions Buddhism Christianity Protestant and Catholic Daoism and Islam at the national provincial and county levels The atlas also outlines the contours of Confucianism folk religion and the Mao cult Further it describes the main organizations beliefs and rituals of China's main religions as well as the social and demographic characteristics of their respective believers Putting multiple religions side by side in their contexts this atlas deploys the latest qualitative quantitative and spatial data acquired from censuses surveys and fieldwork to offer a definitive overview of religion in contemporary China An essential resource for all scholars and students of religion and society in China

The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications,2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change

Visual Cultures as Opportunity Helge Mooshammer,Peter Mörtenböck,2016 Assemblies gathering places and agora like situations have become popular sites for contemporary art At the heart of these arenas is the search for new ways to counter the crisis ridden experience of homo economicus the pervasive and alienating marketization of all aspects of our lives A great deal of hope is being placed on the potential of social formations enabled by new technologies of connectivity and exchange Artists and cultural producers are at the forefront of testing the viability of transgressive actions such as coworking crowdfunding and open source provisions At the same time it is apparent that global capitalism is expanding into multipolar constellations of top down and bottom up economic governance In this volume the fourth in the series Visual Cultures as Helge Mooshammer and Peter M rtenb ck analyze the networked spaces of global informal markets the cultural frontiers of speculative investments and recent urban protests and discuss crucial shifts in the process of collective articulation within today s crowd economy Copublished with Goldsmiths University of London

The Asia-Pacific Trade Agreement Joong-Wan Cho,Rajan Sudesh Ratna,2016 International trade and investment have enabled many countries in the Asia Pacific region to boost economic growth and have lifted millions out of poverty As the Asia Pacific region continues to thrive economically trade and investment barriers are being dissolved and eliminated As countries begin to depend on each other more trade policy is gradually becoming a useful measure to achieve inclusive and sustainable development Trade and investment are linked to the environment and social issues hence their impacts are also multi dimensional It has now been recognized that sustainable production and consumption are essential for sustainable development Countries realize that they are not able to approach global and regional problems on their own and require cooperation both at the level of government and business As a result the region has been active in concluding regional cooperation frameworks which routinely are centered on trade and investment In the meantime business has forged regional integration through the formation of regional value chains and production networks while governments have paved the way for the expansion of such production networks through the formation of regional trade agreements and economic partnerships Thus the Asia Pacific Trade Agreement APTA which is the oldest preferential trade agreement in the region with a large consumer base can play an important role in filling this gap Given a slow progress in the multilateral negotiations in the WTO especially when the members have started questioning the utility of the negotiations after 15 years and a lack of consensus on how to move forward the regional trade agreements can play a vital role Even if they pose a challenge to the multilateralism selected liberalisation of trade and economy in present time can become a building block for future multilateral negotiations One of the reasons for the surge in these preferential trade agreements is to make binding commitments on WTO plus and WTO beyond issues While there are many agreements that exist in Asia and the Pacific there is no such attempt to consolidate them in one umbrella framework Understanding the benefits of the consolidation one such initiative was started by ESCAP a few years back The RECI initiate for market integration could well be facilitated by APTA however it cannot deliver unless it transforms itself in a new generation agreement Regional integration and cooperation are also important to meet the 2030 agenda for sustainable development Instead of wasting resources in discussing a new institutional framework it would be more effective to use the existing framework and for the Asia Pacific economies the APTA provides an existing institutional platform The cases discussed in this book prepare a ground for the future and it is expected that all the stakeholders member States of ESCAP private sector as well as researchers would benefit from this publication on APTA South South Regional Integration and Sustainable Development
