

ANAGENE INC

DISCUSSION POINT 1

Anagene is a biotechnology firm incorporated in 1993. The core value chain that they follow is seen a long way as it went public in 1998, it specialises in manufacturing for other companies. Can you identify Anagene, its primary product is the cartridges that are used in these applications. The company went public in 1998, raising $42.5 million, and improved the sales of cartridges to really show up given the value of its manufacturing. That investment, stopped with a cartridge that were disposable and could perform up to 14 months any single sample. To maintain profits, Anagene concentrated the production of its cartridges for testing. However, it built its own manufacturing facility for cartridges found in production for corporate for cartridge.

DISCUSSION 2

Following criteria discussed by the Anagene team.

1. One of the biggest challenges that Anagene faces is the lack of the existing product substitution in the global cartridge.
2. This may be due to the existing value that Anagene has as they are a manufacturing in that industry and knowing that cartridges instead of buying more from other firms that exist in the industry as they are the production volume for future product. This also affects their price strategy. For example, let's assume that the product volume decreases. That may mean are discounting more, this means that price of the product becomes lower up. Higher costs mean that the customer will more enjoy their product and eventually to lower volume of production leading to a decrease.
3. Cartridge manufacturing price starts due to the customer's market share.

DISCUSSION POINT 3

1. Anagene needs to review the existing structure based on growth strategy. Instead of using horizontal growth to increase sales of core, they need to look at the vertical integration strategy too.
2. They also need to identify the delivery of cost to get a better position of production in the product that they produce and absorption of new cost sales.
