2004 Limpopo Question Paper:

Landmarked Cheryl Walker, 2008 Financial Disclosure Requirements in South Africa 2004-2008 Collette Schulz-Herzenberg, 2009 To control potential conflicts of interest and ensure greater accountability many democracies like South Africa have introduced financial disclosure regulations which set obligations on elected public officials to publicly declare their personal financial and non financial interests By making this information publicly available the conduct of public officials is made more transparent thereby allowing democratic institutions and citizens to hold politicians accountable Drawing strongly on empirical data the paper examines and evaluates the various aspects of the implementation process of financial disclosure for South Africa s elected officials These include the scope and content of disclosure requirements compliance by elected officials institutional support and capacity for disclosure monitoring and oversight mechanisms and public access to information The paper is a product of a three year research project undertaken by the ISS Corruption and Governance Programme

Agricultural Land Redistribution Hans P. Binswanger-Mkhize, Camille Bourguignon, Rogerius Johannes Eugenius van den Brink, 2009-01-01 Despite 250 years of land reform all over the World important land inequalities remain especially in Latin America and Southern Africa While in these countries there is near consensus on the need for redistribution much controversy persists around how to redistribute land peacefully and legally often blocking progress on implementation This book focuses on the how of land redistribution in order to forge greater consensus among land reform practitioners and enable them to make better choices on the mechanisms of land reform Reviews and case studies describe and analyze the al

Institutional Pathways to Equity Anthony J. Bebbington, Anis A. Dani, Arjan de Haan, Michael Walton, 2008-03-24 Questions of equity and inequality have moved to the center of debates on development and poverty reduction This reflects growing awareness that even countries with high rates of growth can experience stagnating or increasing inequality and that inequality can itself limit the poverty reducing effects of growth Indeed recent work indicates that in addition to its intrinsic value equity should be valued for its positive impacts on growth and the poverty reducing effects of such growth These concerns are coupled with questions of governance This is because institutional arrangements affect not only overall rates of growth but also the distributional effects of growth and are themselves more or less equitable in their structure and functioning How given institutional arrangements emerge over time with their implications for growth and equity remains less understood Institutional Pathways to Equity Addressing Inequality Traps tackles the relationship between equity and development the place of institutions in determining these relationships and the conditions under which particular institutional arrangements can either block or promote transitions toward more equitable forms of development The chapters originally commissioned as background documents for the preparation of the World Development Report 2006 are prepared by leading scholars from the fields of economics political science sociology geography and development studies The book speaks directly to current discussions on inequality poverty and growth and will contribute to the construction of a historically informed political economy of development The book specifically highlights the importance of inequality institutional change through social mobilization and institutional change through state policies The authors show that under certain conditions state institutions can and have taken a leading role in promoting policies to redress inequitable social relations and so weaken the social foundations of inequality traps Special Papers ,1934 Resolving the Late Paleozoic Ice Age in Time and Space Christopher R. Fielding, Tracy D. Frank, John L. Isbell, 2008-01-01 This volume summarizes new developments in understanding the longest lived icehouse period in Phanerozoic Earth history the late Paleozoic ice age Resolving the Late Paleozoic Ice Age in Time and Space provides summaries of existing and new data from the various Gondwanan continental relics and also reviews stratigraphic successions from the paleotropical and temperate regions of Laurussia that preserve an indirect record of glaciation It addresses the extent to which records of glaciation indicate protracted long term climatic austerity as opposed to fluctuating more dynamic climate and provides new constraints on the timing of glaciation Additionally it tackles questions of synchronicity of glaciation across the various Gondwanan continental relics and timing relationships between near field and far field records at greater levels of resolution than has been possible previously Results point toward a dynamic icehouse regime that is comparable to the Cenozoic icehouse and away from traditional interpretations of the late Paleozoic ice age as a single protracted event that involved stable long lived ice centers Publisher's website Pretoria Student Law Review 2021-15 Pheny Nomasonto Morweši Sekati, 2022-01-01 About the publication I am delighted to present to you the reader the fifteenth edition of the Pretoria Student Law Review PSLR with its Special Section on Social Justice and COVID 19 This year's Annual Edition together with the developments made during the year is a testament to the growth resilience and adaptability of this student driven initiative especially during these turbulent times This year has also been one of reflection and remembrance as we publish this edition in tribute to the late Professor Christof Heyns whose instrumentality in the establishment of the Pretoria University Law Press PULP has brought us to where we are today Fourteen years since its inception and the PSLR still continues to grow and evolve whilst remaining true to its thriving legacy in fostering excellence and innovation through legal writing This publication's uniqueness is also presented through its diverse contributions all addressing contemporary societal and legal issues under a broad range of legal disciplines In an era of many continued firsts the PSLR has strived to build on the legacy of its predecessors by expanding on the Journal's visibility and accessibility The PSLR's digital presence has now grown substantially leading to an increase in quality submissions from institutions across the country This year the PSLR launched its first independent website and developed an official logo for the Journal and its online platforms Authors are now able to submit their papers through the Open Journals System platform track their workflow manage their submissions and submit at any time outside of the PSLR's official call for submissions We can firmly submit that we have in pursuance of being a DHET accredited journal fulfilled the standards set out by the Department of Higher Education and Training Many

Market-Led Agrarian Reform Saturnino Borrás Jr., Cristóbal Kay, Edward Lahiff, 2013-09-13 Three fourths of the world's poor are rural poor Most of the rural poor remain dependent on land based livelihoods for their incomes and reproduction despite significant livelihood diversification in recent years Land issue remains critical to any development discourse today Market led agrarian reform MLAR has gained prominence since the early 1990s as an alternative to state led land reforms This neoliberal policy is based on the inversion of what its proponents see as the features of earlier approaches and calls for redistribution via privatized decentralized transactions between willing sellers and willing buyers Its proponents especially those associated with the World Bank have claimed success where the policy has been implemented but such claims have been contested by independent scholars as well as by peasant movements who are struggling to gain access to land This book presents three thematic papers and six country studies The thematic papers address issues of formalisation of property rights gendered land rights and neoliberal enclosure These studies demonstrate the pervasive influence of neoliberal ideas on property rights and rural development debates well beyond the core question of land redistribution The country cases bring together experiences from Brazil Guatemala El Salvador Philippines South Africa and Egypt Common findings include the success of landowners in minimising the impact of reform and a lack of post transfer support translating into marginal impact on poverty The limitations of the market led approach and the implications of the studies presented here for the future of agrarian reform are considered in the editors introduction This book was a special issue of The Third World Quarterly

Policing and Boundaries in a Violent Society Guy Lamb, 2022-01-31 This book explores how social and territorial boundaries have influenced the approaches and practices of the South Africa Police Service SAPS By means of a historical analysis of South Africa this book introduces a new concept police frontierism which illuminates the nature of the relationships between the police policing and boundaries and can potentially be used for future case study research Drawing on a wealth of research this book examines how social and territorial boundaries strongly influenced police practices and behaviour in South Africa and how social delineations amplify and distort existing police prejudices against those communities on the other side of the boundary Focusing on cases of high density police operations public order policing and the recent policing of the COVID 19 lockdown this book argues that poor economic conditions combined with an increased militarisation of the SAPS and a decline in public trust in the police will result in boundaries continuing to fundamentally inform police work in South Africa This book will be of interest to scholars and students interested in policing in post colonial societies characterised by high levels of violence as well as police work and police militarization Human Resources Development Review 2008 Andre Kraak,Karen Press,2008 Through 25 chapters authored by some of the leading researchers in the field the Human Resources Development Review 2008 provides an extensive overview of the contextual factors driving human resources development in South Africa A key theme throughout the volume is the importance of a multi faceted skills development strategy operating at three levels The first entails high skills policies aimed at expanding export oriented manufacturing production and services provision particularly in new globally competitive niche areas The second relates to the economy s ongoing need for intermediate skills as is evident in the shortage of skilled artisans and technologists Finally the provision of basic entry level skills is important in view of the urgent need for large scale job creation schemes triggered by public sector initiatives to ameliorate high levels of unemployment and despondency especially amongst the youth Breathing Life Into Fossils Travis Rayne Pickering,Kathy Diane Schick,Nicholas Patrick Toth,2007 Taphonomy the study of the processes leading to the fossilization of organic remains is one of the most important avenues of inquiry in human origins research Breathing Life into Fossils is a major contribution to taphonomic studies in paleoanthropology and natural history This book emanates from a Stone Age Institute conference celebrating the life and career of naturalist Bob Brain a pioneer in bringing taphonomic perspectives to human evolutionary studies Contributions by leading researchers provide a state of the art look at the maturing field of taphonomy and the unique perspectives it provides to research into human origins This important volume reveals approaches taken to the study of bone accumulations at prehistoric sites in Africa Eurasia and America and provides fascinating insights into patterns produced by carnivores by hunter gatherers and by our human ancestors South African Journal of Geology ,2006 South Africa Survey ,2009 Reconhecimento Pelo Estado Das Autoridades Locais E Da Participação Pública Lars Buur,Terezinha da Silva,Helene Maria Kyed,2007 Science & Public Policy ,2006 African Arts ,2004 The Journal of Tourism Studies ,2003 Goodwin Series South African Archaeological Society,1972 Mbeki and After Daryl Glaser,2010-10-01 For nearly ten years indeed more if we include his period of influence under Mandela s presidency Thabo Mbeki bestrode South Africa s political stage Despite attempts by some in the new ANC leadership to airbrush out his role there can be little doubt that Mbeki was a seminal figure in South Africa s new democracy one who left a huge mark in many fields perhaps most controversially in state and party management economic policy public health intervention foreign affairs and race relations If we wish to understand the character and fate of post 1994 South Africa we must therefore ask What kind of political system economy and society has the former President bequeathed to the government of Jacob Zuma and to the citizens of South Africa generally This question is addressed head on here by a diverse range of analysts commentators and participants in the political process Amongst the specific questions they seek to answer What is Mbeki s legacy for patterns of inclusion and exclusion based on race class and gender How if at all did his presidency reshape relations within the state between the state and the ruling party and between the state and society How did he reposition South Africa on the continent and in the world This book will be of interest to anyone wishing to understand the current political landscape in South Africa and Mbeki s role in shaping it      Southern Africa Report ,2008
