Handbook of Research on Effective Advertising Strategies in the Social Media Age Ta?k?ran, Nurdan

Öncel, 2015-02-28 Social media pervades people's awareness and everyday lives while also influencing societal and cultural patterns. In response to the social media age advertising agents are creating new strategies that best suit changing consumer relationships. The Handbook of Research on Effective Advertising Strategies in the Social Media Age focuses on the radically evolving field of advertising within the new media environment. Covering new strategies, structural transformation of media and changing advertising ethics, this book is a timely publication for policymakers, government officials, academicians, researchers and school practitioners interested in furthering their research exposure and analyzing the rapidly evolving advertising sector and its reflection on social media.

Confederate Exceptionalism Nicole Maurantonio, 2022-09-30 Along with Confederate flags, the men and women who recently gathered before the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts carried signs proclaiming Heritage Not Hate. Theirs they said was an open and visible protest against those who attacked us, our flags, our ancestors or our Heritage. How Nicole Maurantonio wondered, did not hate square with a heritage grounded in slavery? How do so-called neo Confederates distance themselves from the actions and beliefs of white supremacists while clinging to the very symbols and narratives that tether the Confederacy to the history of racism and oppression in America? The answer Maurantonio discovers is bound up in the myth of Confederate exceptionalism, a myth whose components, proponents and meaning this timely and provocative book explores. The narrative of Confederate exceptionalism in this analysis updates two uniquely American mythologies, the Lost Cause and American exceptionalism, blending their elements with discourses of racial neoliberalism to create a seeming separation between the Confederacy and racist systems. Incorporating several methods and drawing from a range of sources including ethnographic observations, interviews and archival documents, Maurantonio examines the various people, objects and rituals that contribute to this cultural balancing act. Her investigation takes in official modes of remembering the Confederacy such as the monuments and building names that drive the discussion today, but it also pays attention to the more mundane and often subtle ways in which the Confederacy is recalled. Linking the different modes of commemoration, her work bridges the distance that believers in Confederate exceptionalism maintain while situated in history from the Civil War through the civil rights era. The book brings much-needed clarity to the constitution, persistence and significance of this divisive myth in the context of our time.

New Forms of Self-Narration

Ana Belén Martínez García, 2020-08-21 This book is a timely study of young women's life writing as a form of human rights activism. It focuses on six young women who suffered human rights violations when they were girls and have gone on to become activists through life writing: Malala Yousafzai, Hyeonseo Lee, Yeonmi Park, Bana Alabed, Nujehun Mustafa and Nadia Murad. Their ongoing life writing projects diverge to some extent, but all share several notable features: they claim a testimonial collective voice, they deploy rights discourse, they excite humanitarian emotions, they link up their context, bound plight with bigger social justice causes and they use English as their vehicle of self expression and self construction This strategic use of English is of vital importance as it has brought them together as icons in the public sphere within the last six years New Forms of Self Narration is the first ever attempt to explore all these activists life writing texts side by side encompassing both the written and the audiovisual material online and offline and taking all texts as belonging to a unique single though multifaceted project
