Through a series of unique chapters from authors working at the forefront of music education this book explores the ways in which an international group of music educators each approach popular music education. Chapters discuss pedagogies from across the spectrum of formal to informal learning including outside and other perspectives that provide insight into the myriad ways in which popular music education is developed and implemented. The book is organized into the following sections: Conceptualizing Popular Music Education, Musical Creative and Professional Development, Originating Popular Music, Popular Music Education in Schools, Identity, Meaning and Value in Popular Music Education, Formal Education, Creativities and Assessment. Contributions from academics, teachers and practitioners make this an innovative and exciting volume for students, teachers, researchers and professors in popular music studies and music education.

Sound, Music, Affect Marie Thompson, Ian Biddle, 2013-03-14 Sound Music Affect features brand new essays that bring together the burgeoning developments in sound studies and affect studies. The first section sets out key methodological and theoretical concerns focussing on the relationships between affective models and sound. The second section deals with particular musical case studies exploring how reference to affect theory might change or reshape some of the ways we are able to make sense of musical materials. The third section examines the politics and practice of sonic disruption from the notion of noise as prophecy to the appropriation of bad vibes for pleasurable aesthetic and affective experiences. And the final section engages with some of the ways in which affect can help us understand the politics of chill, relaxation and intimacy as sonic encounters. The result is a rich and multifaceted consideration of sound music and the affective from scholars with backgrounds in cultural theory, history, literary studies, media studies, architecture, philosophy and musicology.
