

How to Write a Journal Article Review APA Style

Reviewing journal articles is an important assignment on its own or as part of a much larger research paper as it helps in understanding the research concepts and formulating a rich and relevant theoretical foundation for the research and is an elementary phase before writing the literature review.

Instructions

1. Search the library's online databases, such as EbscoHost and others, to find scholarly or peer-reviewed articles. Articles should be from peer-reviewed or scholarly journals and relate to the field of study that the research discusses.
2. Read the entire article. Many journal articles can be quite complex and use complicated wording and statistics. You may need to read the article a few times before you get a full grasp of it.
3. Write a citation for the journal article at the top of the review. The citation should follow the American Psychological Association's style-- consult the APA-style manual or the link under Resources for citation information. You will need the title of the article, the journal where the article is published, the volume and issue number, publication date, author's name and page numbers for the article.
4. Don't copy from the article, paraphrase the relevant literature, methodology and results you want to include in your review.

HOW TO DO IT:

The proper form for your journal article review. It should be two-three pages long, typed, double spaced for each article you review.

Write full reference on the top of the page using APA style

Example:

Wood, D. (2003). Effect of child and family poverty on child health in the United States. Pediatrics Sep 2003 Supplement, Vol 112, 3, 707-712

First, select the related literature from the article.

After reading the article and reviewing its components, select the relevant literature to your research topic (such as definitions - concepts- factors-

The Practical Researcher Dana S. Dunn, 2009-07-07 In The Practical Researcher Dana S. Dunn's student friendly writing style and personal tone provide readers with a practical and engaging introduction to research methods in psychology. Using basic theory, solid research practices and step by step techniques, the author leads students through the process of conducting a project from start to finish. The importance of learning to search, read and critique the psychological literature as well as writing clearly about it is emphasized throughout. Packed with useful decision trees, tables, checklists and illustrations, this clear and precise book will equip students with the tools they need to carry out their research successfully. Special Features: New Doing Research decision trees open each chapter and guide students through the active learning exercises that inform the research process. Research Foundations boxes explore common issues encountered by researchers and use examples to bring research to life. Practical tools and tips for doing research appear throughout, such as writing an experimental script, operationalizing independent and dependent variables, and creating manipulation checks, among many others. Over 40 Active Learning Exercises help students build practical skills such as creating a project timeline, developing a peer research contract using a random numbers table and reporting results in poster or paper form, among many others. Generating Research Ideas section provides easy to follow guidelines for developing ideas by using freewriting, keeping a research notebook or brainstorming research ideas alone or as a research team. Critical thinking is emphasized when searching, reading and writing about psychological literature. Updated chapter on Ethical Considerations in the Practice of Research includes a solid foundation and practical exercises, e.g. completing an IRB form for an ethics review, writing an informed consent form, crafting a scientifically and ethically sound debriefing script. Updated references and research practices includes the latest APA Ethical Principles of Psychologists and Code of Conduct. Expanded advice on presenting research at student conferences and submitting project results to student journals. New annotated student paper in Appendix A
