world's population is projected to grow by one third reaching between 9 and 10 billion With globalization and expected growth in global affluence a substantial increase in per capita meat dairy and fish consumption is also anticipated The demand for calories from animal products will nearly double highlighting the critical importance of the world's animal agriculture system Meeting the nutritional needs of this population and its demand for animal products will require a significant investment of resources as well as policy changes that are supportive of agricultural production Ensuring sustainable agricultural growth will be essential to addressing this global challenge to food security Critical Role of Animal Science Research in Food Security and Sustainability identifies areas of research and development technology and resource needs for research in the field of animal agriculture both nationally and internationally This report assesses the global demand for products of animal origin in 2050 within the framework of ensuring global food security evaluates how climate change and natural resource constraints may impact the ability to meet future global demand for animal products in sustainable production systems and identifies factors that may impact the ability of the United States to meet demand for animal products including the need for trained human capital product safety and quality and effective communication and adoption of new knowledge information and technologies The agricultural sector worldwide faces numerous daunting challenges that will require innovations new technologies and new ways of approaching agriculture if the food feed and fiber needs of the global population are to be met The recommendations of Critical Role of Animal Science Research in Food Security and Sustainability will inform a new roadmap for animal science research to meet the challenges of sustainable animal production in the 21st century Dynamic Industrial Policy in Africa United Nations. Economic Commission for Africa,2014 For millions of Africans growth is yet to translate into jobs and better living conditions Africa s largely commodity driven growth has not been matched by the much needed structural change that can lead to economic transformation employment and reduced poverty Market failures necessitate industrial policy interventions Yet in the absence of the right processes and institutions good industrial policies will fail Indeed weak institutions and poor policy design have hindered industrial policy This report gives a framework for getting the policy process right to foster industrialization It uses 11 country case studies to assess the critical ingredients for spurring industrialization innovative institutions effective processes and flexible mechanisms and structural transformation U.S. Organic Dairy Politics B. Scholten,2014-11-19 Based on a decade of study this book provides a scholarly overview of organic dairy politics showing how politics policy and protest both inside and outside of agriculture can determine a future of pastoral landscapes resembling an earlier time in the western world or alternatively one made of dystopian ruralities

The Journal of Agriculture of the University of Puerto Rico ,2017-10 Bibliographie der Wirtschaftswissenschaften ,1999 Global Assessment Report on Disaster Risk Reduction 2013 United Nations,2013 This publication is the third biennial report coordinated by the United Nations Office for Disaster Risk Reduction UNISDR The first and second reports focused primarily on public policy and the role of national and local governments in disaster risk reduction This current report explores why increasing disaster risks represent a growing problem for the economic and business community at different scales It examines how paradoxically business investments that aimed to strengthen competitiveness and productivity may have inadvertently contributed to increasing risks This report seeks to engage businesses in a dialogue on disaster risk management that goes beyond the current emphasis on response and preparedness and instead identifies opportunities for the creation of shared value for business and society Routledge Handbook of Gender and Agriculture Carolyn E. Sachs,Leif Jensen,Paige Castellanos,Kathleen Sexsmith,2020-10-28 The Routledge Handbook of Gender and Agriculture covers major theoretical issues as well as critical empirical shifts in gender and agriculture Gender relations in agriculture are shifting in most regions of the world with changes in the structure of agriculture the organization of production international restructuring of value chains climate change the global pandemic and national and multinational policy changes This book provides a cutting edge assessment of the field of gender and agriculture with contributions from both leading scholars and up and coming academics as well as policymakers and practitioners The handbook is organized into four parts part 1 institutions markets and policies part 2 land labor and agrarian transformations part 3 knowledge methods and access to information and part 4 farming people and identities The last chapter is an epilogue from many of the contributors focusing on gender agriculture and shifting food systems during the coronavirus pandemic The chapters address both historical subjects as well as ground breaking work on gender and agriculture which will help to chart the future of the field. The handbook has an international focus with contributions examining issues at both the global and local levels with contributors from across the world. With contributions from leading academics, policymakers and practitioners and with a global outlook the Routledge Handbook of Gender and Agriculture is an essential reference volume for scholars, students and practitioners interested in gender and agriculture. Journal of Oil Palm Research, 2019 Geopolitics and Development Marcus Power, 2019-01-25 Geopolitics and Development examines the historical emergence of development as a form of governmentality from the end of empire to the Cold War and the War on Terror. It illustrates the various ways in which the meanings and relations of development as a discourse, an apparatus and an aspiration have been geopolitically imagined and enframed. The book traces some of the multiple historical associations between development and diplomacy and seeks to underline the centrality of questions of territory, security, statehood and sovereignty to the pursuit of development along with its enrolment in various bordering practices. In making a case for greater attention to the evolving nexus between geopolitics and development and with particular reference to Africa the book explores the historical and contemporary geopolitics of foreign aid, the interconnections between development and counterinsurgency, the role of the state and social movements in re-imagining development, the rise of re-emerging donors like China, India and Brazil and the growing significance of South-South flows of investment, trade and development cooperation. Drawing on post-colonial and post-development approaches and on some of the author's own original empirical research this is an essential critical and interdisciplinary analysis of the complex and dynamic political geographies of global development. Primarily intended for scholars and post-graduate students in development studies, human geography, African studies and international relations this book provides an engaging, invaluable and up-to-date resource for making sense of the complex entanglement between geopolitics and development past and present.
