1. A grocery store sells four different sizes of a popular brand of corn flakes. For the past few years the proportion of boxes they sell of each size has been quite stable: 10% Small, 15% Medium, 60% Large, and 15% Jumbo. They decide to change the pricing of the four sizes and want to see if this changes the proportion of boxes they sell of each size. To test this, a few weeks after changing the prices they take a simple random sample of 120 transactions involving corn flakes and count how many boxes of each size were sold. Here are the results.
