Rozprawy Akademii Umiejętności, Wydział Filologiczny Akademie der Wissenschaften Philologische Klasse,1895 Rozprawy Akademii Umiejętności, Wydział Filologiczny ,1895 Globalization, Mass Education and Technical and Vocational Education and Training Miriam Preckler Galguera,2018-06-05 This book assesses the influence of the international organization UNESCO on the development of national Technical and Vocational Education and Training TVET systems in the Southern African Community

Region SADC focusing particularly on Botswana and Namibia. Designed around UNESCO's Better Education for Africa's Rise BEAR project, the study is an excellent example of applied policy research. Analysis is from the perspective of key stakeholders including UNESCO headquarters and field offices, Ministries of Education and of Labor, employers and employees, education and training institutions, international partners, and more. Both qualitative and quantitative evidence are used to provide a comparative overview, and the author also reveals the current state of data on skills. Readers will discover common goals and challenges across the nations but also a common lack of action to measure the impact and influence that UNESCO's programs have had at a national level prior to this study. Were the newly implemented educational policies successful or not? If the public policies failed, why was that? These chapters shed light on such questions and how UNESCO's contribution influenced the national development processes in the context of globalization processes and trends of global mass education. The book has much to offer for both scholars and those working in UN agencies or national governments who seek to develop education systems and better link them to the world of work. Fombad, Collence Takaingehamo Chisita, Omwoyo Bosire Onyancha, Mabel K.

Minishi-Majanja, 2023-07-24 The publication seeks to establish how information professionals are providing information services in a sustainable society in an era of information disorder. It also provides the strategic direction to strengthen the global voice of libraries, inspiring and enhancing professional practice as well as enhancing international cooperation and collaboration among LIS educators and practitioners. The contents are divided according to the following key sub-themes that resonate with the title as outlined below: Library and information services in the information age; Data and records in an era of information disorder; Archives data curation and preservation in the digital era; Data science, analytics and visualization; Information ethics in the digital era; Information deluge in the digital era; Information and knowledge management; Fourth Industrial revolution. The highlighted themes explore critical issues relating to how libraries, archives and related institutions are responding to the seismic shifts in the information landscape amidst a myriad of challenges and opportunities. The sub-themes bring together a tapestry of articles that explore the status, experiences and future prospects of the dynamic library and information science practice. Transactions Cambridge Philological Society, 1883 Vol 1 includes reprints of the Memoranda issued by the Society 1872-79 also Officers of the Society from the commencement to the year 1879 and Earliest list of members 1872 Health and Medical Geography in Africa Yemi Adewoyin, 2023-10-30 This contributed volume focuses on the evolution and current state of the sub-discipline of health and medical geography in Africa. It encompasses theoretical and methodological issues as well as the current teaching and research capacities of institutions offering programs in health and medical geography in Africa. Further the book will review the level of adoption of the sub discipline in State policies and practice and also provide practical illustrations with case studies of how studies in the sub discipline are central to the actualization of Africa's development agenda. Particular attention is paid to the relationship between health and development. Through its direct and indirect impacts on labor productivity, population health and wellbeing matter for the social and economic development of households and national economies. Yet health is not uniform in space. And so is development. Comparatively on many health and development indicators, Africa fairs poorly. The variation in health may present as differences in the occurrence and spread of diseases, the distribution of and access to healthcare facilities and/or in health outcomes among the population. Reasons for these variations range from biology to the population's levels of exposure and susceptibility to elements in their environment including the social interactions taking place within the environment. The field of health and medical geography focuses on the spatial patterns and processes underlying these variations and provides pathways for understanding and addressing them. More specifically the sub discipline of health and medical geography focuses on among others how places their characteristics and processes that go on in them and environmental factors underlie and/or influence disease patterns, exposure and susceptibility to diseases, health variations, health behavior, health outcomes and the provision of and access to healthcare services. This volume documents perspectives and applications in health and medical geography in Africa for academics, students, health practitioners and development policymakers.
