Mears,2018-08-22 The Medal of Honor may be America s highest military decoration but all Medals of Honor are not created equal The medal has in fact consisted of several distinct decorations at various times and has involved a number of competing statutes and policies that rewarded different types of heroism In this book the first comprehensive look at the medal s historical legal and policy underpinnings Dwight S Mears charts the complex evolution of these developments and differences over time The Medal of Honor has had different qualification thresholds at different times and indeed three separate versions one for the army and two for the navy existed contemporaneously between World Wars I and II Mears traces these versions back to the medal s inception during the Civil War and continues through the ongoing wars in Iraq and Afghanistan along the way describing representative medal actions for all major conflicts and services as well as legislative and policy changes contemporary to each period He gives particular attention to retroactive army awards for the Civil War World War I legislation that modernized and expanded the army s statutory award authorization the navy s grappling with both a combat and noncombat Medal of Honor through much of the twentieth century the Vietnam era act that ended noncombat awards and largely standardized the Medal of Honor among all services and the perceived decline of Medals of Honor awarded in the ongoing Global War on Terror Mears also explores the tradition of awards via legislative bills of relief extralegislati ve awards administrative routes to awards through Boards of Correction of Military Records restoration of awards previously revoked by the army in 1917 judicial review of military actions in federal court and legislative actions intended to atone for historical discrimination against ethnic minorities Unprecedented in scope and depth his work is sure to be the definitive resource on America s highest military honor      NL ARMS Netherlands Annual Review of Military Studies 2019 Wim Klinkert,Myriame Bollen,Marenne Jansen,Henk de Jong,Eric-Hans Kramer,Lisette Vos,2019-07-16 This book has as its subject matter the academic education of officers and builds on the signing of the Bologna Declaration in 1999 by twenty nine European ministers for Education and Science who thereby agreed to coordinate higher education across Europe by for instance the implementation of the Bachelor s and Master s system In the meantime military academies have also introduced the BaMa system into their programs for officers education which marks a transition from the old days when officers education took place within a national military system under military command and was firmly grounded in principles traditions and needs as professed by the Ministries of Defence and the armed forces in particular So the Bologna Declaration can be seen as crucial leverage for the development of in house academic degree programs as a fundamental part of officers education With this volume the editors of NL ARMS 2019 strive to offer a platform to both academics and military and civilian practitioners as well as to combinations of these to reflect and share their thoughts on officers education before and after Bologna both in The Netherlands and abroad To this end controversies and challenges affecting various aspects and systems of officers education have been grouped into five themes Respectively the first four themes comprise institutional settings and change educational philosophy educational challenges and reflective practices and didactical solutions The fifth theme international perspectives provides insights into the strategic environments and challenges faced by sister academies as well as ways to further officers education across Europe such as offered by Erasmus programs All the editors of this year s volume are affiliated with the Faculty of Military Sciences of the Netherlands Defence Academy in Breda The Netherlands
