

A black and white photograph of a man in a trench coat and hat looking through binoculars on a cobblestone street. The man is seen from the side, wearing a light-colored trench coat and a dark hat. He is holding binoculars to his eyes with both hands. The ground is made of large, irregular cobblestones. The lighting is dramatic, with strong shadows.

France Since 1945:

France Since 1945 Robert Gildea, 1996 The last fifty years have seen immense challenges for the French constructing a new European order building a modern economy searching for a stable political system It has also been a time of anxiety and doubt The French have had to come to terms with the legacy of the German Occupation the political and social implications of the influx of foreign immigrants the destruction of traditional rural life and the threat of Anglo American culture to French language and civilization Robert Gildea's account examines French politics society and culture as well as France's role in the world from 1945 to 1995 He looks at France's attempt to recover national greatness after the Second World War its attempt to deal with the fear of German resurgence by building the European Community the Algerian war and the later development of a neo colonialism to preserve its influence in Africa and the Pacific He traces the career of General de Gaulle the revolution of 1968 and the trend towards both political consensus and political disillusionment He also examines the rise and fall of the French intellectual the changing cultural policy of the state and the threat of feminism regionalism and multiculturalism to the ideal of the One and Indivisible Republic France Since 1945, 2010 Contemporary France D. L. Hanley, A. P. Kerr, Miss A P Kerr, N. H. Waites, 2005-08-17 Many recent studies of French politics have tended to concentrate on the French political system in isolation Contemporary France aims to set the working of the French political system into its historical social and economic context The first section gives a succinct description of the main developments since 1944 in all major contexts economy society domestic politics and foreign relations The authors then analyse the economic social and cultural structures of present day France and discuss the institutional framework of decision making and the major political forces involved in it There are also chapters on French external and defence policy and on the education system all of which are set in the context of the political system as a whole Aimed primarily at students of European history and politics or of French society and culture the book assumes little knowledge in the social sciences and will be readily accessible to beginners in this field

France and Its Empire Since 1870 Alice L. Conklin, Sarah Fishman, Robert Zaretsky, 2015 Providing an up to date synthesis of the history of an extraordinary nation one that has been shrouded in myths many of its own making France and Its Empire Since 1870 seeks both to understand these myths and to uncover the complicated and often contradictory realities that underpin them It situates modern French history in transnational and global contexts and also integrates the themes of imperialism and immigration into the traditional narrative Authors Alice L Conklin Sarah Fishman and Robert Zaretsky begin with the premise that while France and the U S are sister republics they also exhibit profound differences that are as compelling as their apparent similarities The authors frame the book around the contested emergence of the French Republic a form of government that finally appears to have a permanent status in France but whose birth pangs were much more protracted than those of the American Republic Presenting a lively and coherent narrative of the major developments in France's tumultuous history since 1870 the authors organize the chapters around the country's
