

AL CAPONE DOES MY SHIRTS

Al Capone Does My Shirts: A Tale from Alcatraz by Gennifer Choldenko is set during the Great Depression in 1935. When their father gets a job as an electrician on Alcatraz, 12-year-old Moose and his family move there and the siblings have to adjust to living on an island that houses some of the most dangerous criminals in the world.

EXPOSITION / CONFLICT

Moose is not thrilled about moving and misses his old home and friends. He has always been close with Natalie and understands the challenges caused by her autism. Natalie's autism affects how she experiences the world. Natalie's mother is desperate to get her into the Father P. Marlowe School which is known for helping people with autism. However, in order to get in, Natalie needs to improve some of her behaviors and communication skills.

RIISING ACTION

Moose watches Natalie after school and brings her everywhere he goes while their mother works. This frustrates Moose as he is trying to make friends and wants to play baseball. But, he is loyal towards Natalie and does what he's told. Other kids live on Alcatraz, like the worst-of-the-worst's daughter Piper, who has a penchant for breaking the rules, exaggerating to impress their classmates, and trying to make a profit. Various characters from the book have their photos posted by the Prison.

CLIMAX / TURNING POINT

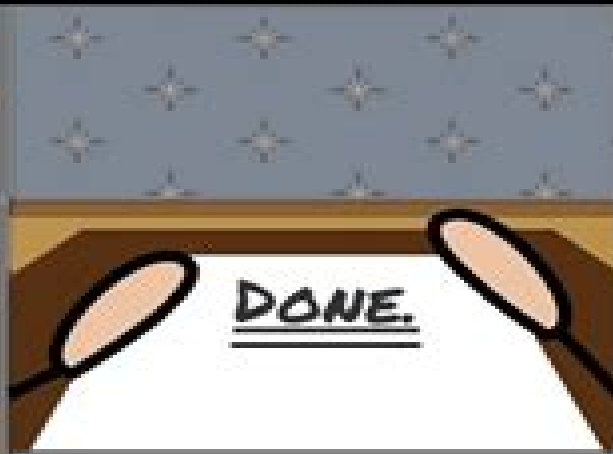

To help mend fences with Scout, Moose looks for a real "convict baseball" to give him. Moose searches the area around the prison daily, leaving Natalie alone. One day, Moose discovers she's been spending three days alone with a convict! The convict knows him by name and gives him a baseball saying, "I know you've been looking for one." Moose can't believe he left Natalie alone to possibly be harmed by a prisoner!

FALLING ACTION

Moose's worries were unfounded and the prisoner was just as nice as he seemed. Regardless, he is ridiculed with guilt and embarrassment and is left Natalie alone. The family has been imprisoned in Alcatraz and are hopeful she will pass her interview to get into the school. However, Moose discovers an age requirement that students be younger than 12 and Natalie is nearly 14. Mrs. Kavanagh has been hiding her age and has been contacting her father to help her. Moose says to her she can't help. He tells her parents she's too old to be accepted, believing that his won't help Natalie in the long run.

RESOLUTION

Natalie fails the interview to get into Father P. Marlowe and the family's hopes are dashed. Moose is determined to help Natalie even if it means leaving the island. He secretly creates a letter to Al Capone convincing him to accept her. He convinces Al to help Natalie get in. Soon after he sends the letter, Natalie is accepted! The family is overjoyed knowing she will finally get the help that she needs. Moose finds a note hidden in one of his clean shirts from the laundry that simply says, "Done."
