teaching particular linguistic phenomena Others review existing research findings discussing how these findings are useful for language pedagogy All chapters show how generative linguistics can enhance teachers expertise in language and second language development This groundbreaking volume ably takes on the gap that currently exists between generative linguistic theory in second language acquisition GenSLA and second language pedagogy by gathering chapters from GenSLA researchers who are interested in the relevance and potential application of their research to second foreign language teaching It offers a welcome and thought provoking contribution to any discussion of the relation between linguistic theory and practice I recommend it not only for language teachers interested in deepening their understanding of the formal properties of the languages they teach but also for linguists interested in following up on more practical consequences of the fruits of their theoretical and empirical research Donna Lardiere Georgetown University Washington DC USA The Bay View Magazine, 1897 Literary News, 1884 An Exploratory Study on the Responses to Students' Needs in Foreign Language Instruction in Colleges and Universities Predominantly Attended by Afro-American Students Helen Goff LeBlanc, 1972 The Illustrated American, 1892 Harper's New Monthly Magazine, 1882 Journal of the Minnesota Education Association, 1967 Harper's Magazine, 1882 Important American periodical dating back to 1850
