At Your Service:

At Your Service Elisabetta Di Nitto, 2009 Research results from industry academic collaborative projects in service oriented computing describe practical achievable solutions Service Oriented Applications and Architectures SOAs have captured the interest of industry as a way to support business to business interaction and the SOA market grew by 4.9 billion in 2005 SOAs and in particular service oriented computing SOC represent a promising approach in the development of adaptive distributed systems With SOC applications can open themselves to services offered by third parties and accessed through standard well defined interfaces The binding between the applications and the services can be in this context extremely loose enabling the ad hoc creation of new services when the need arises This book offers an overview of some current research in the field presenting the results of eighteen research projects funded by the European Community's Information Society Technologies Program IST The projects collaborations between industry and academia have produced practical achievable results that point the way to real world applications and future research The chapters address such issues as requirement analysis design governance interoperability and the dependability of systems made up of components owned by third parties The results are presented in the context of two roadmaps for research one developed by European industry involved in software development and the other by researchers working in the service area The contributors report first on the Infrastructure Layer then in the bulk of the book on the Service Integration Layer the Semantic Layer and finally on the issues that cut across the different layers The book concludes by looking at ongoing research on both roadmaps

At Your Service? Gaurav Nayyar, Mary Hallward-Driemeier, Elwyn Davies, 2021-10-18 Manufacturing led development has provided the traditional model for creating jobs and prosperity But in the past three decades the conventional pattern of structural transformation has changed with the services sector growing faster than the manufacturing sector This raises critical questions about the ability of developing economies to close productivity gaps with advanced economies and to create good jobs for more people
