

ACCOUNTING INFORMATION

Accounting is process to record, analyze, summarize, and interpret financial information of a business organization. The information generated from Accounting is known as ACCOUNTING INFORMATION.

This information is of use to the stakeholders of the company, namely the employees, shareholders, creditors, banks and other lenders, regulatory agencies and tax authorities, etc.

LIMITATIONS

There are mainly two limitations of accounting information :

- They are based on Judgments and Interpretations.
- Based on historical cost and hence gets improperly valued.

PRINCIPLES & ASSUMPTIONS

GOING CONCERN assumption states the business activities will continue for the foreseeable future period.

ACCURAL BASIS states that revenue and expenses should be recorded when it becomes due (irrespective of cash received or paid)

MATCHING PRINCIPLE states that revenue related to a period should be matched against related expenses for that period.

ASSUMPTION OF RELIABILITY states that accounting information should be reliable and verifiable.

FULL DISCLOSURE states that information provided in the financial reports and statements should be complete.

OBJECTIVITY PRINCIPLE specifies that no personal opinions or bias should influence the entire process of accounting.

DOUBLE ENTRY SYSTEM states that there are two sides to every transaction, and at least two accounts will get posted.

CONSISTENCY AND COMPARABILITY states that accounting information should be based on same method of accounting

Collier,Sandy Margaret Kizan,Eckhard Schumann,2013 The Canadian edition of Accounting for Managers Interpreting Accounting Information for Decision Making builds on the success of the original textbook that was published in the United Kingdom This book was motivated by a need for a decision focused accounting textbook for both MBA and undergraduate programs The title of the book emphasizes the focus on accounting to meet the needs of managers The material contained in the book stresses the interpretation rather than the construction of accounting information as well as a critical rather than unthinking acceptance of the underlying assumptions behind accounting It is suitable for postgraduate and undergraduate students who are undertaking courses in accounting that do not lead to professional accreditation and to practicing non financial managers who need a better understanding of the role of accounting in their organizations This Canadian edition book has been adapted to include materials examples and case studies with a Canadian focus Part I provides a discussion of financial accounting with particular focus on international financial reporting standards and practices Part II concentrates on management accounting information for planning decision making and control while Part III provides the supporting information including relevant readings that demonstrate some current research and literature in management accounting

Accounting for Managers Paul M. Collier,2015-06-08 This revised and updated fifth edition of Accounting for Managers builds on the international success of the previous editions in explaining how accounting is used by non financial managers Emphasizing the interpretation as opposed to the construction of accounting information Accounting for Managers encourages a critical rather than unthinking acceptance of accounting techniques Whilst accounting information is immensely valuable for planning decision making and control users need to recognize the assumptions behind and the limitations of particular accounting techniques As in the previous editions Accounting for Managers combines theory with practical examples and contemporary case studies drawn from real business situations across a wide range of manufacturing retail and service industries Accounting for Managers is an ideal companion for postgraduate and undergraduate students as well as non financial managers in executive education courses seeking a better understanding of the role played by accounting and how it affects their organization and business unit
