Alien Dichotomous Tree Project:

The Science Teacher, 2009 Evaluating the Knowledge of at Risk High School Students in Ecology Through Alternative Assessment Tina Marie Kopinski, 2007 Return of the Monstrous-Feminine Barbara Creed, 2022-07-27 This follow up to the classic text of The Monstrous Feminine analyses those contemporary films which explore social justice issues such as women's equality, violence against women, queer relationships, race, and the plight of the planet and its multi-species. Examining a new movement termed by Creed as Feminist New Wave Cinema, The Return of the Monstrous Feminine explores a significant change that has occurred over the past two decades in the representation of the monstrous feminine in visual discourse. The Monstrous Feminine is a figure in revolt on a journey through the dark night of abjection. Taking particular interest in women directors who create the figure of the Monstrous Feminine in cinema that foregrounds everyday horrors in addition to classic horror, Creed looks at a range of diverse films including The Babadook, A Girl Walks Home Alone at Night, Nomadland, Carol, Raw, Revenge, and the television series The Handmaid's Tale. These films center on different forms of revolt, from inner revolt to social, supernatural, and violent revolt, which appear in Feminist New Wave Cinema. These relate in the main to the emergence of a range of social protest movements that have gathered momentum in the new millennium and given voice to new theoretical and critical discourses. These include third and fourth wave feminism, the MeToo movement, queer theory, race theory, the critique of anthropocentrism, and human-animal theory. These theoretical discourses have played a key role in influencing Feminist New Wave Cinema, whose films are distinctive, stylish, and diverse. This is an essential companion to the original classic text and is ideal for students in Gender and Media, Gender and Horror, Gender and Film, and Feminist Film theory courses.

Bridging Mental Boundaries in a Postcolonial Microcosm William F. S. Miles, 1998-09-01 The South Pacific archipelago of Vanuatu simultaneously experienced the two major types of colonialism of the modern era: British and French, the only instance in which these colonial powers jointly ruled the same people in the same territory over an extended period of time. This, in addition to its small size and recent independence in 1980, makes Vanuatu an ideal case study of the clash of contemporary colonialism and its enduring legacies. At the same time, the uniqueness of Melanesian society highlights the singular role of indigenous culture in shaping both colonial and postcolonial political reality. With its close attention to global processes, Bridging Mental Boundaries in a Postcolonial Microcosm provides a fresh comparative approach to an island state that has most frequently been examined from an ethnographic or area studies perspective. William F. S. Miles looks at the long-term effects of the joint Franco-British administration in public policy, political disputes, and social cleavages in post-independence Vanuatu. He emphasizes the strong imprint left by condocolonialism in dividing Vanuatu into Anglophones and Francophones but also suggests how this basic division is being replaced or overlaid by divisions based on urban or rural residence, traditional or modern employment, and disparities between the status and activities of men and women. As such, this volume is more than an analysis of a unique case of colonialism and its effects; it is an interpretation of the evolution of an insular society beset by particularly convoluted precolonial colonial and postcolonial fractures Based principally on research conducted in 1991 and following a key change in Vanuatu s government a subsequent visit in 1992 the analysis is enriched by regular comparisons between Vanuatu and other colonized societies where the author has carried out original research including Niger Nigeria Martinique and Pondicherry Extensive interviews with ni Vanuatu are integrated throughout the text presenting islanders views of their own experience
