Innovative Solutions for Sustainable Supply Chains Hassan Qudrat-Ullah, 2018-08-28 This book presents the latest tools techniques and solutions that decision makers use to overcome the challenges faced by their sustainable supply chains. Given the ever increasing significance of socio economic and environmental factors the management of sustainable supply chains has become a complex and dynamic task. Multiple and conflicting objectives of stakeholders including suppliers, manufacturers, service providers and retailers add to the complexity of decisions that modern day managers of supply chains face. With the unprecedented technological developments and innovations at hand sustainability can be maximized for all the activities of a supply chain including service concept and product design, material sourcing and procurement, manufacturing processes, delivery of the final product and end of life management of the product. Consequently the sustainable supply chains problems require a systematic and integrated approach. Modeling and simulation in general as well as system dynamics and agent based modeling in particular have the capabilities to deal with the complexity of sustainable supply chain related problems. This book will appeal to professionals and researchers in the field.

Pluralistic water research integrates the hydrological and the social to provide sustainable solutions to water crises. While relying upon robust quantitative modelling, sociohydrology captures crises across many waters: surface, ground and interstitial, along quantity and quality dimensions. Hydrosocial unfurls power hierarchies in access to safe and required quota of water, be it for drinking or irrigation purposes. The success of engineering solutions laying out hard interventions such as solar powered irrigation dams high yielding crop varieties water treatment plants and water distributions and purifications depend on soft socio political cultural and psychological variables like the political landscape community behaviours and governance arrangements How these soft parameters limit or advance the effect of hard interventions await more enhanced modelling and place based qualitative analyses to disentangle various cause effect pathways While historical and process based sociohydrology accommodates detailed temporal datasets and causal relationships across human water systems the hydrosocial paradigm reconciles non modern anti hegemonic water techniques and knowledge systems animating local agencies within specific hydrosapes This issue is dedicated to capture real time innovations through which water challenges have been confronted It intends to unravel storylines along actionable water projects reflecting on mediations across multiple actors and networks in specific spatio temporal and cultural contexts finally drawing our attention to the correlation between projected promises and actual realities Situated at the crossroads of boundary work we invite articles that will deploy a range of interdisciplinary frameworks like RANAS Risk Attitude Norms Ability and Self regulation APIE Awareness Participation Involvement and Engagement HUPE Historical Urban Political Ecology etc to demonstrate coupled sociohydrological and hydrosocial realities and in turn getting informed by empirical insights emanating from these actual water interventions The final aim of the special issue is not to showcase water just actual interventions but to elicit a rigorous mapping of sustainable processes facilitating collective co production of resilient water trajectories

Exploring Third-Party Logistics and Partnering in Construction Andreas Ekeskär, 2016-06-01 The construction industry is associated with problems such as low productivity and high costs This has been highlighted in several government funded reports in both Sweden and in the UK during the course of over two decades The construction industry is a large industry sector employing hundreds of thousands and a large contributor to a country s GDP The problems therefore have a large impact on society Some of the problems are rooted in the organizational structure of the construction industry Compared to other manufacturing industries the construction industry is organized in temporary organizations The temporary organizations cause temporary supply chains fragmentation among construction industry actors and adversarial relationships between those actors Partnering has been put forward as a solution to overcome the temporariness and the adversarial relationships in the construction Another solution to mitigate the problems suggested in the reports is supply chain management SCM Both concepts have been taken from the manufacturing industries and partnering has been more successful compared to SCM in the construction industry In the construction industry the progress towards SCM has focused on logistics In recent years dedicated third party logistics TPL solutions have emerged in the Swedish construction industry where a company is hired to manage the logistics in a construction project The purpose with the research presented in this licentiate thesis is to explore how client initiated TPL solutions and partnering can be facilitators for SCM in the construction industry Being a new phenomenon in the construction industry TPL solutions provide a logistical competence not necessarily included in a traditional construction project Therefore TPL solutions are of particular interest when studying the realization of SCM in the construction industry In the process of realizing SCM in the construction industry the construction clients have been put forward as having a crucial and important role The clients are the initiator and funder of construction projects and as such the client can influence the course of a construction project Therefore it is of interest to study how the client can take an active role in this process Initiating a TPL solution in a construction project is one way for a client to take an active part in the realization of SCM in construction However in order to study how clients can take an active role towards the realization of SCM in the construction industry there have to be an understanding of how SCM is to be adopted to the construction industry context SCM that derives from the manufacturing industry is designed to be used in long term relationships with permanent organizational structures The construction industry on the other hand is associated with short term relationships and a temporary organizational structure Partnering that is designed to mitigate the temporariness and establish long term relationships have been quite successful in the construction industry and could therefore be used as a facilitator for SCM in construction To study the use of client initiated TPL solutions in construction and the realization of SCM in the construction industry the following research questions have been addressed RQ1 To what extent can a third party logistics solution be a facilitator for client driven SCM in the construction industry RQ2 How will upstream and downstream tiers be affected when a thirdparty logistics provider is used in a construction project RQ3 How can partnering be used a mean to facilitate the realization of SCM in the construction industry To answer the research questions two main methodologies have been used case study for the empirically grounded research and conceptual studies for the analysis of the case studies as well as for comparing the two concepts of partnering and SCM All questions have been grounded in literature and previous research The findings of this research is therefore grounded in both theory and in practice The main findings of this research is that TPL solutions are not a quick fix for realizing SCM in the construction industry However if used right a TPL solution can be an effective tool to address logistical issues in a construction project and to establish an interface between the supply chain and the construction site By initiating a TPL solution the client addresses the importance of logistical competence in a construction project A TPL solution does not have a purpose of its own a TPL solution is a service function to the construction project providing expertise on logistics management There are also a number of driving forces and concerns that have been identified if they are addressed prior to a TPL solution is implemented the likelihood of its success will increase Furthermore both partnering and SCM rely on high trust and share several key components and issues that have to be addressed Partnering on strategic level with several suppliers included can even be hard to distinguish from SCM Wherefore partnering is considered a facilitator for the realization of SCM in construction By addressing the necessary issues in both concepts a good foundation for SCM is established

The Ascension of a Pioneering Cocoa Farmer to a Ghanaian "lieu de mémoire" Tim R. Kerkmann, 2019-11-12 Seminar paper from the year 2019 in the subject History Africa grade 1 0 Humboldt University of Berlin Institut für Asien und Afrikawissenschaften course Agriculture and Colonialism in Africa language English abstract This paper aims at examining the mythical figure Quarshie and its interpretation How have the narratives about the beginnings of cocoa cultivation in the Gold Coast changed throughout the 20th century and how was Tetteh Quarshie constructed as an enduring national lieu de mémoire that has continued to trigger fascination within the Ghanaian society This paper will try to give an answer to this question The paper proceeds in three steps Firstly it presents the introduction of cocoa into the Gold Coast in order to enlighten this complex process marked by a few different actors among these prominently stands Quarshie Different sources as well as assessments in the later literature are analysed in this context The second chapter deals with the evolution and structures of the ensuing cocoa boom in Ghana that despite temporal declines still continues today As many historians have underscored cocoa cultivation was successfully performed by local smallholder farmers largely independent from British influence as a consequence the construction of Quarshie as a lieu de mémoire further accentuates the indigenous and emancipatory character of the Ghanaian cocoa industry In a third step the commemorative culture about the beginnings of cocoa cultivation in the Gold Coast is retraced from earlier diverging interpretations to the incremental exaltation of Quarshie Both theoretical literature on commemoration culture and topical Ghanaian newspaper articles are thereby used In fact the current project of the Tetteh Quarshie Cocoa Museum proves that cocoa and its history remain at the core of the Ghanaian self image and that Quarshie's name seems indispensable in this regard It is thus high time to track down this highly questionable narrative of the cocoa introduction in the Gold Coast which has not been done yet in detail In addition a goal on the theoretical meta level of the paper is to underline the merits of the lieux de mémoire approach particularly in the West African context where this has not yet been widely applied      The Bibliographer's Manual of English Literature Lowndes, 1871      The Effect of Presidential Remembrance Speeches on Public Opinion, 2024-06-12 Seminar paper from the year 2015 in the subject American Studies Linguistics grade 1 4 Free University of Berlin language English abstract The paper investigates the impact of presidential 9 11 memorial speeches on U S public opinion regarding security and counterterrorism It utilizes Entman's framing theory to analyze how these speeches define problems identify causes convey moral judgments and suggest remedies The study highlights shifts in presidential rhetoric from 2001 to 2014 examining changes in problem definitions and proposed solutions It also explores the relationship between these frames and public perceptions drawing on polling data to assess the influence of presidential speeches on citizens sense of security and support for antiterrorism measures      Electronics Express, 1962      Harper's Weekly John Bonner, George William Curtis, Henry Mills Alden, Samuel Stillman Conant, Montgomery Schuyler, John Foord, Richard Harding
