These skills are self insight, perceptual skills, ability to inspire, motivate, lead, ability to analyze situations, and personal flexibility/adaptability. The authors also feel strongly that successful management of organizational behavior rests on the problem solving process. In fact, the 4 skills listed above enable managers to use this process to deal with the people problems they face more effectively. If nothing else, studying what organizational behavior has to offer as a field should help a person figure out his/her strengths and weaknesses. Management of Organisational Behaviour Nirmal Singh, 2004-03 Management and Organisational Behaviour Laurie J.
