

PROJECT 1: INTERPRETING POLITICAL CARTOONS IN THEIR HISTORICAL CONTEXT

A party machine is an organization headed by a boss or a small ruling group that coordinates through votes its members' political and administrative conduct in a city, county or state. This 1907 cartoon published by Thomas Nast illustrates the corruption of political machines that would come within the political party system. This political cartoon refers to William Tweed and his machine (also nicknamed Boss Tweed) who ran the corrupt city government of New York City. Nast's cartoon is published separately in various editions. Read and then describe this political cartoon and answer the questions below.

- 1) How do William Tweed and his machine use money to dominate the City of New York?
He uses money to control all decisions and actions. He and other politicians and his agent Sam Boas.
- 2) How do the political machine by Thomas Nast play out in the cartoon? How does Tweed?
It shows a family, including his wife and children.
- 3) How does Tweed and his machine use money to control the city?
He and his family are the richest party in the city, including all the money.
- 4) How does the cartoon reflect a relationship between a Democratic system of government and a Populist system during the late political party system?
The cartoon is published in a Democratic newspaper and it was in the name of the newspaper, not in favor of the people.
