

6b Community matters

Type of activity

Reading for information about the community. Individual and pair work.

AECC reference

R1/e3.2a, R1/e3.6a, R1/e3.7b

Aim

To enable learners to skim and scan for information.

Language

skimming and scanning for factual information; prepositions; imperatives in adverts and posters

Vocabulary

drop-in, can (concessions), per session, a notice, a board, a welcome, crafts, to hold, to provide, to get involved in / with, to originate in

Warmer

Ask learners if any of them attend other kinds of classes or if they have done so in the past. Then ask them if they ever go to events at local community centres and elicit the kinds of classes on offer that they could attend (e.g. sports, keep fit, dancing, singing, crafts and hobbies).

- 1 Tell learners that they are going to read about activities and events held at a typical community centre. Show them some fliers from local organisations as examples of the kinds of local activities advertised.
- 2 Pre-teach any new vocabulary from the worksheet, using a local flier or leaflet as an example (e.g. drop-in, concessions) and practise any key pronunciation.
- 3 Give out copies of the worksheets and ask learners to focus on and name the kinds of activities shown on the community notice board.

Answers

Qigong, yoga, social club, English classes, singing club

- 4 Learners work in pairs to find the answers to the questions in part A. Check the answers as a whole group.

Answers

- 1 yoga, social club
- 2 drop-in social club, WEA classes
- 3 qigong, community singing
- 4 drop-in social club
- 5 community singing, Drop-in social club
- 6 yoga, qigong
- 7 community singing, £3 (£2 con.)

Preparation

Photocopy one worksheet for each learner. Take in examples of fliers and adverts from your local community centre, sports centre or college, as realia to show to the group or use in the extension role-play.

Differentiation

Weaker learners: these learners can work in groups of three when doing the information search (part A). Stronger learners: the extension role-play can be developed as a note-taking activity, requesting course information over the phone.

- 5 Learners do part B, discussing the best ways to develop their social lives and offering advice to each other. Review the ways to suggest and give advice, as appropriate for the class (e.g. using would and could / Why don't you ...? etc.). Question B.3 can be done as a role-play with one learner recommending different activities or courses to the other.
- 6 Review the use of prepositions with verbs and expressions, using examples from the text (e.g. drop-in, free of charge, in a friendly environment, get involved in / with) and highlight the imperatives in the adverts and their usage (e.g. relieve stress, meet new people, ring Tom).

Extension

Learners visit a community centre or a library, or look in a local newspaper, and bring to class a flier of an activity that interests them. Learners tell each other about their activity / event. Alternatively, learners perform a role-play, requesting information about available courses from a receptionist or secretary at a community centre or local college.
